REVOLT FEARED IN ARGENTINA

EUROPE SWELTERING IN HEAT WAVE

PROSTRATIONS AS RESULT WEATHER TAKE EIGHT LIVES

ENGLAND, FRANCE, ITALY, PORTUGAL AND OTHER NATIONS SUFFER

LONDON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Most of Europe sweltered today in a continuation of a heat wave of the past few days which has taken at least eight lives from prostration in Great Britain.

The hot weather again caused much discomfort in the British Isles and was also felt in Western and Central Europe where high temperatures for this time of the year were recorded. In Germany 90 degrees was registered yesterday and Italy had similar high figures while France, Belgium and Spain also suffered. Several industries in Bilboa, Spain, suspended work.

As far as Great Britain was concerned the thermometer today registered 92 degrees fahrenheit at 3 p. m. and oppressive humidity made conditions worse.

The lightest of summer garb is being worn and outdoor swimming pools are crowded. In one Sheffield laundry the work girls were allowed to wear bathing costumes.

In the southern districts and along the channel heavy fog prevailed and delayed shipping. One liner arrived in Plymouth many hours late and reported that the fog extended for a distance of 1,000 miles.

The temperature here rose to 93.5 degrees fahrenheit at 4 p. m., or one and one-half degrees more than yesterday's maximum. The day was the hottest recorded for seven years and the hottest in August for 19 years.

No Relief in Paris.

PARIS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—No relief from the sweltering atmosphere came to Paris on this, the fourth day of France's heat wave. The temperature was 91. There were reports of heat prostrations throughout the country.

At Brive La Gaillarde and other towns water rationing was in effect. One death was reported today at St. Gaudens near Toulouse.

Hot in Italy.

ROME, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The little town of Postoia, near Florence, took the high record in Italy's belated heat wave yesterday with a temperature of 98.6 fahrenheit.

Rome, where it struck 95 yesterday, had a fairly cool night but today was as sultry as ever.

Storm Follows Heat.

LISBON, Portugal, Aug 28.—(AP)—Severe storms have devastated Tabua, Penfiel and Fafe, villages in Oporto district, following closely upon a severe heat wave.

A 70-mile wind uprooted trees, broke telephone and telegraph poles and wiped out scores of huts. A century-old oak was destroyed.

Joaquim Poscoal was killed at Penafial and a panic was caused when lightning set several fires. Fafe has bee ncut off from communication by a flood.

Arctic Wastes Give Up Their Dead

Salomon August Andree (above), explorer and aeronautist, who with two companions started for the North Pole in a balloon 33 years ago last month, was found frozen to death on an island in Franz Josef Land, August 6, by a Norwegian fishing vessel. The body of an unidentified comrade of Andree's was also found. Both were in a remarkably good state of preservation.

ASK $1,000,000,000 FUND FOR BUILDING FROM GOVERNMENT

BUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 28.—(AP)—A resolution calling on President Hoover to cal la special session of congress for the purpose of appropriating $1,000,000,000 for public construction as a means of relieving unemployment was adopted unanimously by the New York Federation of Labor in annual convention here today. The convention previously had rejected, by a vote of 400 to 5, a resolution putting the state federation on record as favorng a third political party sponsored by organized labor.

WASHINGTON MOVIE HOUSES ARE FACING EMPLOYEES STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—In an effort to avert the closing of the larger Washington moving picture theatres next Monday—threatened by deadlock in contract negotiations with union employes— the scene of conferences between owners and musicians was transferred today to New York.

Failure to reach an agreement on new contracts for the musicians, which are to go into effect September 1, brought threats of a walkout by stange hands and projection operators in the principal houses still retaining orchestras. An eight-day truce offered by the managers was refused last night and decision followed to transfer the negotiations to the owners o fthe theatre chains involved and the national officers of the musicians union.

Houses of the Fox, Loew and R-K-O chains are affected by the deadlock.

MOODY'S PLAN TO PURCHASE COTTON GAINS MOMENTUM

COMMERCIAL AND CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS ARE BACKING BUY-A-BALE MOVE

AUSTIN, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Employment of local labor on road work, to give employment to drought-stricken farmers has been agreed to by officials of the state highway department, Gov. Dan Moody said today.

All contracts entered into by the state will conain the provision that the contractors employ their labor in the section where the road is being constructed whenever such employment is feasible, Moody said.

The governor also announced that he planned to ask executives of Southern states to join him in an appeal to the president for support of the "buy a bale of cotton" movement.

Telegrams and letters from many sections of Texas and from nearby states were received, commending the movement. A Waco firm telegraphed it had purchased 10 bales at 15c a pound, approximately four and one-half cents above the market price.

AUSTIN, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Continuing to gain momentum, the "Buy a Bale of Cotton" movement instituted by Governor Dan Moody today had gained new supporters.

In Austin, four bales had been sold or pledged at approximately four and one-half cents above the market, the original owners receiving from $22.50 to $24.50 more than the market. The entire membership o fthe Crosby chamber of commerce had been pledged to buy a bale, according to a telegram received at the governor's office. In addition two Southern executives had joined with Moody and others were expected to follow suitt.

With letters and telegrams from luncheon clubs and chambers of commerce received, Governor Moody made a plea to all chambers and civic organizations of all kinds to join with him in the movement "to pay the Southern worker a fair price for the drudgery of furnishing a necessary commodity to a worl dmarket."

The governor, meanwhile, still worked upon relief plans for state farmers hit by the drought. He hoped to be able to offer employment on the state highways to farmers whose crops had failed, having asked highway engineers to specify

PROBE OF EWALD CASE REOPEN

Attorney General Hamilton Ward holds one of his first conferences with Assistant Attorney General Robert S. Conklin, in charge of the New York office of the State Law Department. The Attorney General has been appointed by Governor Roosevelt to take over the investigation of the Ewald case from District Attorney Grain. Mr. Ward has already asked Supreme Court Justice McCook to request that an extraordinary grand jury be impaneled to hear new evidence.

FERGUSONS BREAK SILENCE WITH STATEMENT THAT THEY WILL NOT ASK OFFICE AGAIN

AUSTIN, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The statement "we never expect to seek public office again" has broken the silence James E. and Miriam A. Ferguson had maintained since Mrs. Ferguson's defeat for the democratic nomination for governor in last Saturday's primary.

The statement was published in the Ferguson Forum, off the press today. Advance copies of it were given newspaper men yesterday in answer to repeated requests for a statement.

In the same editorial statement, signed "Ma and Pa," is was said that the Fergusons would always be ready to do their "mite" in behalf of the people and as the first contribution offered a legislative program consisting of five planks: Abolishment of the poll tax, defeat of the $350,000,000 highway bond issue, investigation of campaign expenditures, investigation of the books of the state highway department and enactment of a law making the highway commission elective.

Governor Moody, when his attention was called to a statement in the Forum that the books of the highway department had not been audited for four years, said that the statement was not in accord with facts. "It's another one of Jim's bad dreams," he said.

Mrs. Ferguson did not congratulate Sterling on his victory because of a statement attributed to him which she considered derogatory, said another statement in the same issue.

DROUGHT RELIEF PLACED PRIMARILY IN LOCAL HANDS

HOOVER'S DROUGHT RELIEF BACK IN LOCAL CREDIT CHANNELS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—President Hoover went over the plans for extending credit to the drought stricken farmers at a White house breakfast parley today and put his support behind the program.

As agreed upon by banking representatives on various state relief committees, the major aid will be rendered by local banks and credit organizations. Steps are under way to get the machinery functioning.

The White House conferees included Senator Watson, the Republican floor leader; Henry M. Robinson of Los Angeles, chairman of the special committee of bankers which met yesterday, and Joseph R. Nutt of Cleveland, a banker and treasurer of the Republican national committee.

Watson advised against a special session of congress unless it were absolutely necessary. It was agreed no call was warranted.

Reports from the drought areas were studied. These showed again the harm wrought was confined principally to 300 widely scattered counties.

Extension of credit to the farmers and Red Cross relief to the suffering is the problem receiving immediate attention. The conferees noted that feed was being sent into the drought areas for cattle and that cattle were being moved when necessary o place them where feed is available.

There are no immediate plans for legislation to meet the drought emergency and it is understood at state authorities hope to conquer the problem without any legislation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Farmers and business men of the drought afflicted states had notice today from the bankers in charge of relief financing that they must look primarily to their local banks and credit organizations for funds to get back on their feet.

Adopting a program of coordination for furnishing credit to communities deprived of their normal reserves by the rain shortage, the fiscal representatives of 15 state relief committees yesterday recommended the full legal use of federal credit available. They made plain, however, that

Fletcher Put at Head Of New Tariff Board

The new Tariff Commission, which soon is to take up difficult tasks under the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act, will have at its head Henry P. Fletcher, veteran diplomat. Mr. Fletcher served as our envoy to Chile, Mexico, Belgium and Italy.

HUSBAND AND WIFE DEAD; BELIEVED BE MURDER-SUICIDE

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Acquitted two years ago of the slaying of her second husband, Mrs. Frances Kirkwood Van Clief, 34, was shot and killed last night by her third husband, Eugene Van Clief, who then committed suicide.

That was the theory of police based on a note found after the bodies were found in a Brooklyn rooming house. The note, addressed to Ida Van Clief, a daughter by a previous marriage, read:

"Please forgive me for what I have done. It is the best way out. Your Dad, Eugene."

Police learned Van Clief, who married Mrs. Kirkwood a year ago recently had met financial reverses in a roadside stand he conducted.

SINCLAIR GETS CONTRACT STATE OIL AND GASOLINE

AUSTIN, Aug. 28—(AP)—Contracts to furnish the state its oil and gasoline for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 15 was awarded by the state board of control today to Sinclair Oil & Refining Company. Cost of the supplies will be in excess of a million dollars.

The contract was awarded on a bid of two and one-fourth cents below the tank wagon price and three cents below the retail price. The tank contract was estimated at 4,650,000 gallons and the service station total at 200,000 gallons.

Crude oil and grease will cost the state approximately $85,000.

The contract contained a provision that where Sinclair service stations were not available, state employes would purchase gasoline at Gulf Refining service stations at the commercial rate of two cents below the retail price.

ROOF OF RESIDENCE PRESIDENT YRIGOYEN BRISTLES WITH GUNS

RAILWAY ORDERED TO BE READY TRANSPORT TROOPS TO BUENOS AIRES

BUENOS AIRES, Argantina, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Dr. Juan De La Campa, minister of justice, was stated by the newspaper La Critica today to have informed President Yrigoyen that there was an immediate possibility of a revolution involving certain political leaders and part of the army.

Replying to this suggestion of an impending revolution in Argentina, the president was reported to have said that he feared no subversive outbreak in the country. At the same time he expressed the belief that he himself might be in danger of an attack.

The president, whose home is being guarded by a strong force of mounted police, arrived at the government palace this afternoon under a heavy guard. It was understood members of the cabinet met at the palace this morning.

Four or more machine guns are said to have been mounted on the roofs of buildings surrounding the president's home and the palace military guards have been strongly reinforced, machine guns being placed on the roof of their headquarters as additional protection. A mounted police patrol surrounded the palace.

All military units in the capital area were said to have been confined to their barracks. While the capital abounded with rumors, calm prevailed throughout the city and the population apparently was not disturbed by the tense atmosphere in political circles.

The official explanation for the extraordinary police activity in the capital disturbances arising out of a 24 hour strike of the 6,000 employees of the Union Telegraph company.

The newspaper La Critica said that Dr. De La Campa had informed the president of the growth of public feeling against the failure of congress to get to work. The president was reported as promising to call an extraordinary session of congress Sept. 8 inasmuch as the term of the regular session expires this week.

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The newspaper La Prensa today states that the roof of President Yrigoyen's house bristles with machine guns and that the Provincial railway management has received orders to hold a train ready at a moment's notice to convey troops to Buenos Aires.

Trouble of a mysterious nature began to develop yesterday. The chief of provincial police held long conferences with the commanders of all of the city's police stations.

The provincial government minister went into conferences with the commanders of regiments in the LaPlata garrison.

All of these orders, according to La Prensa, were issued by Governor Crovetto after a meeting in the president's house.

One officer and ten soldiers of the presidential escort are manning the machine gun battery on the palace roof.

Today's LaNacion said there was

MOVIE WORLD PAYS TRIBUTE TO LON CHANEY; LAST RITES SIMPLE; VETERAN GUARDS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The notables of the movie world and hundreds of admiirng laymen prepared today to accompany the body of Lon Chaney on its last journey.

From the little chapel of a funeral parlor the distinguished character actor's body will be taken after impressive but simple services, to be buried beside his father in Forest Lawn cemetery, Glendale, this afternoon.

Hundreds of citizens, singly or by twos and three, filed past the silver bronze casket yesterday to pay final respects to the man whose private life was a simple, unostentatious and quiet as the screen characters which brought him fame were weird, grotesque and memorable. In this same setting, a few months ago, rested the body of Mabel Normand and, a few years before, that of Rudolph Valentino who, Like Chaney, was cut off at the height of his career.

Honorary pallbearers represented a cross-section of the who's who of filmland, including Louis B. Mayer, Nicholas Schenck, Irving G. Thalberg, Hunt Stromberg, Paul Bern, Tod Browning, Chaney's director; Harry Carey, Lionel Barrymore, Ramon Novarro, William Haines, Lawrence Tibbett, Lew Cody, Cliff Edwards, Harry Papf, Fred Niblo, Benny Rubin, Wallace Beery, George Hill and Edgar Selwyn.

Entire Industry Halts

The entire motion picture industry arragned to suspend work at 3 o'clock, when the funeral cortege was due at the cemetery, to honor his memory for two minutes. All business activity in every Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer office throughout the world was ordered stopped for two minutes.

At the local M-G-M studios, where Chaney was shortly to have begun his second talking picture, the United States marine corps reserve, of which the actor was an honorary member, arranged to lower a flag and fire a salute as taps was sounded in his honor.

Numerous deaf mutes were among those who came to the chapel, Chaney having been an especial hero to them, not only because one or two of his most memorable screen characters were thus afflicted but because both his parents were deaf and dumb.

A touching sight at the chapel was the grief of a battered veteran of the world war, on whose breast bleamed row upon row of decorations. Throughout the day this veteran, Sergeant Frank McClouskey, kept vigil beside the casket, near which was his own floral offering.

McCloskey met Chaney seven years ago. Chaney sent McClouskey to a hospital for an operation which partially cured his paralysis.

FATAL ACCIDENT BRINGS NEW SAFETY RULES AT RACES

BELIEVED NAVAL PILOT GAVE OWN LIFE TO SAVE THOSE OF SPECTATORS

CURTISS - REYNOLDS AIRPORT, CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Captain Frank M. Hawks, holder of the transcontinental speed records for both directions across the United States, flew his Travelair special Wright-motored monoplane through a drizzling rain at the national air races today on a practice flight for the $10,000 Thimpson trophy race. He was clocked unofficially at 220 miles an hour.

The flier made sharp turns and lost little or no speed at the three phylons which mark the 5-mile course. They are checkered posts projecting into the air and race planes must fly around them.

The Thompson trophy race is to be run Labor Day and many famous pilots are expected to start. The distance will be 100 miles or 20 laps around the course, and any type of plane with any sort of motor is eligible. The entrants may also equip their motors with superchargers or special fuels. First prize is $5,000 second $3,000 and third $2,000.

The rain stopped before the start of the day's program and the sun popped out as bright as it has been for the five previous days of the meet.

The Army air corps, which has been thrilling the crowds daily with fast war-time maneuvers, introduced an innovation at the meet today when Lieut. Arthur Innes directed a squadron of army bombers from the ground by radio. His directions were heard by Columbia radio listeners and the spectaors at the field as well as by the pilots of the planes.

To complete the demonstration, which never before was performed in public, an announcer in an army radio plane piloted by Lieut. Robert Cchoenlein from Chanute Field, Ill., described the maneuvers from the air.

Most Powerful Air Beacon Is Placed in Use

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The nation's most powerful air beacon was turned on last night.

Touched off at the White House by President Hoover, the light sent a two billion candle power beam circling through the murky night. Invented and presented to the city by the late Elmer A. Sperry, the light is visible in good weather 250 miles away.

The light of the blue-green beam is equal to one square inch the the sun's brilliance.

A second beam, of 1,100,000,000 candlepower, remains fixed upon the municipal airport as a guide to aviators.

MAN WHO ELUDED OFFICERS 33 YEARS FINALLY CAPTURED

EL RENO, Okla., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Joseph R. Adkins, believed to be the John R. Atchison who escaped from the Canadian county jail here in 1897 after being sentenced to life imprisonment for murder, probably will be returned here from California to serve his term in the state penitentiary which he has eluded for 33 years.

Adkins was arrested yesterday in Los Angeles, but denied he was Atchison. He said he would resist extradition to Oklahoma. Los Angles detectives who declared Adkins was the convicted murderer of August Coontz, Oklahoma rancher, said Harry Atchison, brother of the suspect, reported to them his brother threatened him as the result of misunderstanding regarding the disposition of the estate of their father, John M. Atchison, who died two months ago. He was arrested at a construction office where he worked.

Atchison, then a 19-year old cowboy, escaped from the ramshackle jail house here December 9, 1897, the day before he was to be taken to the territorial penitentiary at Lansing to begin serving his life sentence. As the years passed the search for him slackened and finally ceased as it was apparent he had made good his getaway.

POLITICAL HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF IN SOUTH CAROLINA

SAN FRANCISCO MAYOR IS NOMINATED BY G.O.P. FOR CALIFORNIA GOVERNOR

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Political history repeats itself in South Carolina with Senator Cole L. Blease and James F. Byrnes, former congressman, thrown into a run-off primary for the democratic nomination to the United States senate.

Six years ago Blease and Byrnes went into a second primary and the nomination went to Blease by slightly more than 2,000 votes. Democratic nomination in this state is equivalent to eleciton.

Blease in returns from 1,246 of the state's 1,528 precincts in Tuesday's ballotting held a commanding lead over Byrnes and Leon W. Harris, the third candidate.

Alin D. Johnston, opponent of the state's $65,000,000 highway bond issue, piled up a total of 92,591 votes as returns from 1,302 precincts in the gubernatorial race were tabulated.

Ira C. Blackwood trailed Johnston with 39,580 votes. Ashton H. Williams, who campaigned on a "wet" platform ran fourth with 31,152 votes. There were eight candidates.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Mayor James Rolph, Jr., of San Francisco emerge dvictorious in the race for the republican nomination for governor—a victory that has led to the governorship of California for every nominee of that party in the last 26 years.

The latest unofficial tabulation of Tuesday's primary vote, with only 453 scattered precincts missing out of the state's 10,283, gave Rolph 364,695; Governor C. C. Young, 339,910. Both Young and Fitts conceded victory to Rolph and sent their congratulations.

State Senator Frank Merriam of Long Beach apparently won the republican nomination for lieutenant governor, nosing out H. L. Carnahan, the incumbent, and State Senator Talbert Tubbs of San Francisco. The latter ran on a "wet" platform.

Slayer Dallas County Man Is Free on Bond

DALLAS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Russell C. Bullard, 26, of Grand Prairie, was at liberty today under $10,000 bond on charges of murder, filed yesterday after Carl E. Cochran, 28, garage employe, also of Grand Prairie, was fatally shot. Cochran brought Bullard's wife home at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning, Bullard said.

Bullard was an inspector for a construction company and had been in the habit of coming home about two nights a week. His wife said she had been lonely. They had no children. Mrs. Cochran and her small son were away on a visit.

CAPTAIN CARRIED DOWN WITH BOAT; CAUGHT BY CARGO

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Caught by shifting freight, a captain was carried down with his ship in New York harbor last night after a collision with a scow. His crew of 24 was rescued.

The collison between the Clyde-Mallory freighter Neches and the third of a string of scows in tow of a tug occurred in the narrows off Staten Island. Coast guard boats and police launches saved all the officers and men but Captain Eber Estee of the Neches. He was wedged in by a load of pipe on the after deck.

Chief Engineer E Carey of Hillside, N. J., fought desperately to free him but was pitched into the water as the ship turned over on its side.

"You can't help me. Take care of yourself Carey," were the captain's last words, Carey said.

The Neches, a 4,500 ton vessel was bound for Key West and Mobile with a miscellaneous cargo. Carey was taken to Marine hospital Staten Island, suffering from acute bruises. He was also bowled over by the pipe, but freed himself.

HAROLD DUNCAN BEATS MAN WHO STRUCK FAMOUS DANCING SISTER SEVERAL WEEKS AGO

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Aug. 28.—(AP) Harold Duncan, brother of Vivian Duncan, exacted summary revenge for the pummeling his famous sister received at the hands of Rex Lease recently by soundly beating the motion picture actor in a hotel cafe here last night.

Eye witnesses said Lease's eye was blackened, his face cut and his nose bleeding when the fight was halted. Duncan also was marked although not so badly as his opponent.

The fight started, according to witnesses, shortly after Lease and Duncan met in the cafe, a place much frequented by Hollywood's motion picture elite. The brother of the famous dancing sisters was seated at a table with his father, S. H. Duncan, and two companions when Lease entered. The actor was pointed out to Duncan as the man who had beaten Vivian Duncan at a Malibu Beach cottage and in a few minutes a torrid battle ensued.

The Participants struggled around the cafe and out into the lobby of an adjoining hotel where they were separted.

"I gave him a bad beating," Duncan later informed newspaper reporters, "and felt like kicking him when he was down, like he'd my sister."

The elder Duncan said it was "a good fight while it lasted."

The two battlers and their companions left the cafe before police were summoned and early today no complaint had been filed. Efforts to reach Lease were unsuccessful.

Charles Eaton, manager of the cafe, said the fight was brief. He agreed, however, that Duncan "floored" the actor and that the latter was cut up and had a "black eye."

Last July Lease was jailed on a complaint filed by Vivian Duncan, the dancing actress alleging he struck and kicked her when she refused to enter the home of a mutual friend with him. Lease paid a $50 fine after pleading guilty to a battery charge but insisted Miss Duncan "hit first."

Proud of Her Brother.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Vivian Duncan, the blond half of the Duncan Sisters, was "tickled to death" today to hear that her brother, Harold, had taken up her argument with Rex Lease, picture player, in Hollywood.

"That's the kind of a brother to have," she said.

"It just goes to show that the days of knighthood aren't really over after all. I'm mighty proud to have a brother to do battle for me, just like they used to do in days of old."

The Duncan Sisters are appearing here in vaudeville.

would not be sufficient to give "full measure of relief, which, unfortunately seems to be anticipated in many quarters."

"Nor, perhaps," they added, "will such a program fully meet the emergency that exists."

The recommendations adopted by the bankers on the basis of the report of a sub-committee headed by Melvin A. Traylor, president of the First National Bank of Chicago, provided first for employment of the full credit of local banks and expansion of existing agricultural credit corporations and cooperative marketing associations.. Next, where those were unavailable or inadequate, the bankers favored formation of agricultural credit corporations to operate as loaning agencies under the intermediate credit banks.

List of Facilities Named

The cooperative associations were advised to use the "liberal" financial assistance offered by the farm board. The findings of the bankers were incorporated in a report presented to President Hoover, at whose instance they met in Washington to formulate plans. To the report was appended a list of facilities available through federal agencies prepared by the officials.

The department of agriculture listed several relief tasks in which it is engaged but pointed out that it had only $800,000 in any way available for loans. This amount is restricted to the 1930 crop in Virginia, Missouri, Oklahoma and Alabama, being the balance of a special appropriation for seed loans in Southern states made by congress last winter.

The treasury reported no funds available. The federal reserve board promised leniency toward member banks of the affected region. The farm board listed its facilities under the marketing act, while the intermediate credit banks submitted the system under which their loans to state agricultural credit corporations would be made.

in all contracts that local labor be utilized wherever practical. According to information from the department, contracts to be let will be centered in West Texas, particularly in the thirty-eight counties reported worst hit by the drought.

Moody hoped today to communicate with Secretary of Agriculture Hyde regarding emergency loans for farmers. He has been attempting to complete a long distance telephone call for two days. Secretary Hyde was scheduled to be in Chicago.

May Not Join Plan.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Gov. W. J. Holloway may not join Gov. Dan Moody of Texas in his "buy a bale of cotton" movement, it was indicated today.

Dr. H. G. Bennett, president of Oklahoma A. & M. college, advised the governor it would do little good to take a few bales off the market. Several million bales must be sold to have the desired effect, Dr. Bennett said.

While some purchasers might buy a bale at more than the present market price and "forget it," most buyers would put the cotton back on the market within a few days, Dr. Bennett said.

Connally Offers Aid.

MARLIN, Aug. 28.—(AP)—United States Senator Tom Connally today wired O. B. Martin of College Station, chairman of the Texas drought relief committee, tendering his aid in connection with procuring freight rates in the drought area and in any other way.

HOOVER KEEPING RECESS APPOINTEES TO MINIMUM NUMBER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—President Hoover is adhering as closely as exigencies permit to a quietly adopted policy of keeping recess appointments at a minimum.

The chief executive has taken the view that unless situations arise requiring immediate filling of federal posts, appointments should be deferred until congress is in session.

In line with that policy, he has deferred until December the appointment of five members to the independent federal power commission authorized by congress to replace that composed of the secretaries of war, interior and agriculture.

In addition, he has postponed making appointments to fill vacancies in the federal courts wherever court business is not pressing.

In the meantime, Mr. Hoover is studying applicants for vacant positions and is understood to have chosen several.

Within a few days he is expected to complete the personnel of the tariff commission which, under the Hawley-Smoot tariff act, is to be reorganized by September 17. Henry P. Fletcher, Pennsylvania, republican, former ambassador to Italy, has been named chairman, and Thomas W. Page, of Virginia, a democrat and a former chairman, also has been designated. Four others are to be appointed.

Shortly the president will be confronted with filling a place in his cabinet—that held by Secretary of Labor Davis—republican nominee for the senate in Pennsylvania. Also he has been looking for a successor to Ambassador Morrow to Mexico, republican nominee for the senate from New Jersey.

In addition, the chief executive must consider appointing a chairman of the federal reserve board to succeed Roy A. Young, who resigned yesterday, and a chairman of the merchant marine corporation to take the place of John R. Gordon, who recently died.

NEW MILITARY GOVERNMENT HEADED BY COLONEL CERRO IS NOW IN CHARGE AT LIMA

LIMA, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Complete peace prevailed in Peru today under the leadership of Lieutenant Colonel Luis M Sanchez Cerro, who has formed a government to succeed the deposed president, Augusto B. Leguia, and the military junta which ousted Leguia.

Sanchez Cerro rules from the old government house, which was built by Peru's first Spanish viceroy, the Conqueror Francisco Pizarro, and normal activity has returned to this section of the South American republic.

All provincial authorities have accepted the new regime and the military garrisons over the country have telegraphed their support of the military administration.

Lima and Callao are jubilant over the new government and Sanchez Cerro is considered the liberator of his country. Business was resumed as usual today, with banks and stores open. Many persons who were too frightened to go to work while the question of a government was critical returned to offices and stores today.

The universal cry is:

"Long live the liberator! Long live Peru! Long live the army!"

Newspaper Sales Increased.

LIMA, Peru, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Interest in the recent developments in the political situation have been reflected in increased newspaper sales. The newspaper, El Comercio, a member of the Associated Press, yesterday attained paid circulation of more than 85,000.

That represents the largest number of copies ever issued in a single day by a newspaper in Peru.

LIMA, Peru, Aug. 28.—(AP)—A new military government, headed by Lieutenant Colonel Luis M. Sanchez Cerro, who last week initiated the revolutionary movement at Arequipa, assumed complete control in Peru today.

A new junta, headed by Sanchez Cerro, was formed and sworn in. It displaced both the vestiges of the eleven-year dictatorship of the deposed president, Augusto B. Leguia, and the junta of General Manuel Maria Ponce, members of which Monday forced the president's resignation.

Arriving by airplane yesterday from Arequipa, Lieutenant Colonel Sanchez Cerro received an ovation from hundreds of his countrymen. He landed to the strains of the national anthem and was lifted to the shoulders of admirers and carried nearly three miles.

At the government house he appeared on a balcony and thanked the populace for the demonstration saying he was convinced he had done his duty by revolting against the Leguia government. In conclusion he mentioned what he termed territorial mutilations suffered by Peru during President Leguia's administration. That was taken as reference to the Tacna Arica treaty in which Arica was ceded to Chile.

An hour after the address followed by his new ministers—whom he calls secretaries—he entered the reception hall where the new junta was sworn in. Sanchez Cerro is president in the new junta, Major Alejandro Baroo, secretary of war, and Colonel Ernesto Montague, foreign secretary.

The Lima press today published three wireless mesages in which Leguia, ill aboard the Almirante since he fled the city Monday, ordered the flying forces at Las Palmas training school to go to Ancon, Panama, "in view of the fact that the navy was obeying the legal persident." Some saw in these messages indication that the crew of the Almirante Grau might not be completely in accord with the military movement in Lima and Arequipa.

Lieutenant Colonel Sanchez Cerro is 41 years old, and was in charge of a regiment of sappers last Friday when he initiated the revolt at Arequipa. He has a brilliant military record and in 1922 was exiled after a revolt against President Leguia. During his exile he served in the Spanish foreign legion against the Riffs in Moorocco, later returning to Peru for reinstatement in the army.

Extension Time Is Asked Texas Road

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The Gulf and West Texas railroad asked the interstate commerce commission today to extend from 3 to 6 months the time authorized for beginning construction of a line of road in Gillespie, Mason, McCulloh, Concho and Tom Green counties. The commission already has authorized the construction to begin October 1 and to be completed by September 30, 1932. The extension was requested because of negotiations for purchase of the road by the Southern Pacific.

men, taking her Inland sport plane around the course at 121.08 miles an hour. Vera Dawn Walker, Los Angeles, was second at 120.66 miles an hour and Laura Ingalls of St. Louis third at 111.55 miles.

The race was limited to open type planes of 500 cubic inch piston displacement or less. The women pilots had considerable difficulty rounding the pylons, some of them shooting as much as 500 yards beyond before making the turn.

Doug Davis of Atlanta, Ga., caught up with a balloon in 56 seconds to take the balloon bursting contest of the day.

The glider soaring duration contest, first event on today's program, was won by J. K. O'Meara, Akron, Ohio, who remained in the air 2 minutes and 53 seconds. O'Meara also won the secondary glider duration test, his time being 2 minutes, 53 seconds E. D. Palmer of St. Joseph, Mich., placed second.

Ivan Stoughton, St. Joseph, Mich., was first in the secondary spot, landing contest, placing his glider within 47 feet 8 inches of the flag. F. W. Westphal of Chicago won the primary glider duration competition, remaining in the air 1 minute, 21 2-5 seconds.

Ray E. Kruser of Trenton, N. J., slid his plane to within 6 feet and one inch of the goal flag to win the men's daily dead stick landing contest. In this event pilots must shut off their motors high in the air and glide to a landing.

The oft postponed dead stick landing contest for women resulted in victory for Charity Langdon of Norfolk, Va., who brought her plane to within 150 feet of the flag. Betty Lund of Troy, Ohio, was second and Nancy Hopkins of Garden City, L. I., third. Edith Foltz of Seattle broke the tailskid of her plane while landing.

A 25-mile race for the "pee wee" planes, equipped with motors of 110 cubic inches piston displacement or less, was won by E. B. Heath of Chicago. His average was 79.13 miles per hour.

CURTISS-REYNOLDS Airport, Chicago, Aug. 28.—(AP)—New safety rules went into effect at the national air races today as the result of the accident which cost two lives yesterday.

In hopes of preventing further tragedies such as occurred when a racing navy plane fell near hundreds of spectators, County Coroner Herman Bundesen ordered two large blocks of bleachers either torn down or left unoccupied.

The bleachers are near the pylon where racing planes swing around the field where the navy plane fell yesterday, killing the pilot, Lieut. J. P. DeShazo, and Louis Weiner, a race concessionaire.

The coroner also decreed that racers must finish their dashes in normal positions, instead of zooming up over the bleachers in sharp turns back to the landing field. His third stipulation was that no planes fly low over the crowds.

Some of DeShazo's brother pilots believe he deliberately maneuvered his ship to bring about his own death rather than have his plane drop among the horror stricken onlookers. Seven persons were injured by flying parts and burning oil as the plane's gasoline tank exploded.

The prospect of seeing Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh drew spectators and officials alike to the airport earlier than usual. The Lindberghs overnight were at Columbus, O. They left Hasbrouk Heights, N. J., for the air races yesterday afternoon.

Races Continued

Despite the tragedy of yesterday, race executives announced that the program for today—sixth day of the races—would be the most elaborate thus far. Three races, a men's free-for-all in open planes of 110 cubic inch piston displacement; a woman's competition for open planes of 500 cubic inch piston displacement and a men's competition for open type ships of 800 cubic inch piston displacement were scheduled.

Discouraged by the necessity of calling off several closed course races for women because of lack of entries, race executives announced that women pilots tonight would compete over bridge tables in the cabin of a large plane, as the plane soared over the airport.

Results of the seventh and last of the transcontinental derbies of the 1930 races was announced yesterday when Art Goebel, noted for his flight to Hawaii, crossed the finish line after roaring eastward from Los Angeles in 9 hours, 21 minutes, 21.4 seconds. His speed was sufficient to give him second place and a prize of $4,500. Wiley Post of Oklahoma City who flew the race Tuesday with three other competitors, was awarded the first prize of $7,500, hi stime being 9 hours, 9 minutes and 4 seconds.

Hungarian Flyers Hop.

EL PASO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Capt. Alexander Magyar and George Endres, Hungarian aviators planning a trans-Atlantic flight, hopped off at 5:30 o'clock this morning on their way to New York.

The fliers expected to reach Wichita, Kans., late today. Damages to the plane in landing Tuesday caused a delay here.

A verdict of accidental death was returned today by the coroner's jury investigating the death of Lieut. John Perry DeShazo and Louis Werner, who were killed yesterday when the navy's flier's plane crashed. Major Reed Landis, world war ace and deputy coroner, conducted the inquest.

The verdict also read:

"We, the jury further commend the deceased for his self sacrifice in averting a greater catasprophe in avoiding the crowded bleachers."

DeShazo Confident

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Lieut. Jack P. DeShazo navy aviator killed during the national air races at Chicago yesterday, went into his last race confident that he would win.

"Listen in on our radio and you may hear something that will surprise you," he wired his sister, Mrs. Paul Norton, Red Level, Ala., shortly before he was killed.

He assured his sister that he "arrived OK" and was confident of winning the race. Mrs. Norton said she was not "listening in" when word of his death was broadcast.

Mrs. Norton and DeShazo's stepmother, Mrs. Susie DeShazo of Montevallo, where he formerly lived, left late yesterday for Washington where funeral services will be held.

Groom Flying Boat For Chicago Trip

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The sturdy Dornier-Wal trans-Atlantic plane which carried Captain Wolfgang Von Gronau and his crew of three from Germany to New York was being groomed today for a holiday jaunt to Niagara Falls, the natioanl air races at Chicago and the James Gordon Bennett balloon race at Cleveland.

Captain Van Gronau and his crew planned to take off tomorrow morning.

H. L MENCKEN IS WED WEDNESDAY WITHOUT NOTICE

BALTIMORE, Aug. 28.—(AP)—H. L. Mencken, editor and critic, for years vociferous champion of bachelorhood, and his bride, who was Miss Sara Powell Haardt of Montgomery, Ala., herself a literary figure, were on an automobile honeymoon trip today. But even their closest friends professed to be ignorant of the destination.

Canada was considered their most likely objective.

The Mencken marriage took place at an Episcopal church yesterday afternoon, though it had been announced for September 3. Only members of the immediate family and a few friends were present. Absent was Mencken's literary twin of many years, George Jean Nathan, New York theater critic.

The ceremony was conducted by Dr. Herbert L. Parrish of Ney Brunswick, N. J., long friend of Mencken.

Mencken, as a newspaperman and author since the age of 19, has been engaged for three decades in keeping other in the public eye but he and his bride were almost perfectly shielded from the zealous attentions of friends. Not a hint of the wedding was given until after the ceremony.

UNDER the non-skid tread of these famous Firestone Tires is a double breaker of two plies of cord fabric anchored in cushion rubber. This special construction absorbs road shocks—protects against punctures and blowouts—provides the foundation for the thick, tough tread with deeper grooves—giving longer non-skid wear.

OTHER makes of tires have only a single breaker of old-fashioned square woven fabric which Firestone discarded when they developed the balloon tire. Some makes do not have any breaker at all. The Firestone Tire is set apart as an "All Cord Tire".

MYSTERY MAN OF HOLLYWOOD DIES EARLY TUESDAY

LON CHANEY, NOTED FOR GROTESQUE CHARACTERIZATIONS SUCCUMBS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Lon Cheney, whose grotesque screen characterization won him the sobriquet of "The Man of a Thousand Faces," died here early today after a valiant battle against anaemia and congestion of the bronchial tubes.

A hemorrhage of the lungs shortly after midnight suddenly cut short the noted actor's fight for life after he had been reported on the road to recovery. He was 47 years old.

Chaney entered a hospital August 15 for treatment of an anaemic condition resulting from a severe attack of pneumonia suffered in New York early this year. He failed to respond readily to treatment and last week three blood transfusions were resorted to. Last Saturday he became critically ill but safely passed the crisis. Yesterday he was said by hospital attaches to be resting easily.

The hemorrhage which resulted in Chaney's death struck with unexpected suddenness. He was dead in less than 30 minutes.

A Chaney's beside was Mrs. Chaney, a constant attendant since her husband first was taken ill, and Creighton Chaney, a son by a former marriage.

Made Few Friends.

The death of Chaney removes from Holywood's varied ranks a veritable mystery man, known almost entirely by his screen appearanvces. Away from the motion picture lot Chhaney inevitably wore a pulled down cap, dark glasses and plain clothes. He commanded a large salary, made numerous investments and reputedly was wealthy, but made few friends.

Born April 1, 1883, in Colorado Springs, Colo., the son of deaf and dumb parents, Chaney quit school before he had reached the fifth grade to become a tourists' r ide on Pike's Peak.

His introduction to the theatre was as a property boy. Later he became a stange hand, and to his death he carried a card in a stage hand's organization. Behind the wings he studied the regular actors and learned without a teacher the fine points of acting which later in life won him fame. He got his first "break" as a song and lance man at a stage hands' benefit when he was 16 years old.

With his brother, George, who lives in Oakland, Cal., Chaney drifted into a wandering life of a "ham" actor and toured the country. While with the old Hartman Opera company in San Francisco he met and married Hazel Hastings, a member of the troupe, who was his companion 22 years. Of a previous marriage little is known except that a son was born.

Directed Warren Kerrigan

Chaney's entrance into the motion picture world was via the slapstick route but in 1912 he became an extra in western films. Later he directed Warren Kerrigan, then a western star, in seven productions. He received his first screen credit in 1914 from Universal for appearance in a leading role in "Nell Morgan's Girl."

With his portrayal of "The Frog" in "The Miracle Man" came Chaney's shift from slapsticks and westerns to the grotesque characterizations that mhde him famous. Early this year he signed a five year contract. The "Speakies," bane of many actors and actresses, were no terror to the former musical show comedian.

With his portrayal of grotesque characters, Chaney himself slipped into a seclusion that well might have fitted in with the life of some of his screen characterizations. He refused interviews . . . "None of the public's darned business," he would say . . . shunned personal appearances and utterly refused to attend premier showings. After studio hours he sought the seclusion of his home and his small circle of close friends. Among his close acquaintances were General Smedley Butler of the United States Marines and Eddie Griffon, the comedian.

Wrote Britannica Treatise.

Wholly self-educated, he was a voracious reader and a student of many subjects. He wrote the Encyclopedia Brittanica's chapter on screen makeup. Though often portraying the cripple or deformed character, Chaney off the lot was athletic and strong. His hobb s were fishing, football and prize fighting.

From the list of starring vehicles Chaney has appeared in, outstanding were "The Miracle Man," the Hunchback of Notre Dame," "Phantom of Opera," "Laugh, Clo n, Laugh," and "The Unholy Three." No sacrifice was too great for the actor to undergo if it meant the better his portrayal and frequently he suffered painfully while the camera ground away.

TARIFF COMMISSION ISSUES ORDERS FOR INVESTIGATION DUTIES ON MANY ARTICLES

WASHINGTON, Aug 26.—(AP)—Without awaiting confirmation of Henry P. Fletcher as its new chairman, the tariff commission has issued orders for investigation of duties on 35 articles.

Senate resolutions adopted very shortly after enactment of the tariff bill in June authorized the investigations. Congress suggested a study of more than 100 articles

The commission announced yesterday it had approved orders for investigation of duties on the following articles:

Boots and shoes; woven wire fences and wire netting between three one-hundredths and eighteen-hundredths of an inch in diameter Roman, Portland and other agricultural hand tools; shoe lacings, ultramarine blue; umbrellas and parasols! iron in pigs and iron kentledge, wood flour; pipe organs; pipes, pipe bowls, cigar and cigarette holders and mouthpieces; reptile hides or skins for shoes; pigskin leather, wool felt hats; wool floor covering; fir, spruce, pine, hemlock or larch lumber and timber; cylinder, crown and sheet glass; straw hats, bonnets, and hoods; fourdrinier and cylinder aire, suitable for use in paper making machines; maple sugar and syrup; oilice oil; cehrries in brine, or sulphured; canned or preserved tomatoes, and tomato paste; sheets or plates of laminated products with a synthetic resin or resinlike substance, as chief binding agent; knit, crocheted, finished or unfinished part or wooly infants' wear; cigarette paper; except cork, and blown glass table and kitchen ware.

ELECTION WAGER PAYOFF ATTRACTS INTERESTED CROWD

EARL ALVERSON CARRIES FRANK HAYES ON BACK OVER THREE MILES

"Dang Jim Ferguson and Dan Moody, they caused all this," was Earl ("Ten Spot") Alverson's comment after he had carried Frank ("Gandy") Haves on his back from the P. and S. Grocery on South Ninth street to the State Orphans Home Tuesday evening as a result of an election wager. The three and a half mile trip was completed in an hour and a half, including the time taken out for six brief rests.

Earl carried a sign on which was the insignia, "Ma Lost, So Did I," while Hayes carried a sign "Sterling Won, Free Ride for Me." The expedition attracted considerable attention all along the route, and the sidewalks on Beaton street were lined with people as the strange procession moved along.

In the residence section, other losers shouted encouragement to the loser, while numerous alleged Sterling supporters trailed along in their automobiles encouraging the victor to "ride harder."

When the boys reached the State Home they were greeted by the entire student body of that institution and were congratulated by Superintendent J. S. Hutchey as they reached their final destination, the flag pole.

Both of the youths were graduated in July from the State Home.

No school article offered for sale by City Book Store until approved by Mr. Fillers' superintendent, or some of his associates.

Cheney's Parents Were Deaf Mutes

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 26.—(AP)—The fact Lon Chaney was the son of deaf mutes was always attributed by friends in his birthplace as being largely responsible for his faculty to pantomime which made him one of the screen's foremost stars.

In order to convey impressions to his father and mother Chaney was forced to resort to sign language and facial expressions. This, his friends say, laid the foundation for his screen success.

Chaney was always interested in the theatre. His first connection with the stage was as a property boy here. His brother became his manager and organized a comedy team. They prayed their first professional engagement here when Chaney was 17. At he appeared in his first play, a home talent presentation for the benefit of the stage hands union.

He helped install the seats in a Colorado Springs motion picture theater in which thousands later watched him, in the grotesque role of "Quasimodo" in the "Hunchback of Notre Dame."

In his youth Chaney gained a reputation as a football player. He was light on foot, compactly built and very active. He was half back on an independent eleven. He left school to guide tourists up Pikes Peak.

SCHEDULES EACH FIELD ANNOUNCED NO STATE MAXIMUM

ESTIMATED STATE TOTAL REACH 764,000 BARRELS; SUBJECT REVISION

AUSTIN, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Production schedules for each oil field in Texas were fixed by the state railroad commission today in a revised order which did not set a maximum for the state.

As near as it could be estimated, the state total was 764,000 barrels, with the probability that this figure would be revised upwards with subsequent hearings.

The coastal fields were left open for a period of thirty days, the only maximum being fixed until that date being present production, estimated at 174,000 barrels.

The figures for the district follow:

Panhandle, 80,000 barrels (subject to change at a hearing tomorrow); 69,000 barrels for North Central Texas; West Central, 52,000; East Texas, 41,850 barrels; West Texas, 274,000 barrels (subject to hearings on the Reagan county and Crane and Upton county fields); Southwest Texas, 97,150 barrels; Gulf Coast open for 30 days on the assurance that operators in that district would curtail production by cutting down drilling and possibly 150,000 barrels after September 27.

Pat M. Neff, chairman of the railroad commission, announced that the commission would adopt as a state policy the exemption of six barrel wells from proration. A formal marginal well order will be drawn up later fixing other definitions of marginal wells.

Maximum at 750,000.

In its order of August 14, the commission had set the state maximum at 750,000 barrels on an estimated daily production at that time of 863,000 barrels.

Under today's revision, the coastal fields will not be required to pinch any wells, all operators in the field having testified that wells were now choked and that owing to their peculiar structure they could not be pinched further.

Teh commission took in good faith the assurance of operators from the section that the natural decline in production which would follow practical cessation of drilling would bring the coast down to the 150,000 barrels daily within 30 days.

The restriction was made, however, that new wells brought in on the coast within 30 days would be limited to daily production of 500 barrels and all flowing wells would be equipped with adequate chokes.

Only One Protst.

Only one protest was made, that from representatives of the Chapman field in Williamson county, who contended the 9000 barrels daily allotted them was inequitable on the basis of the field's potential.

The Laredo field was fixed at 13,500 barrels and all others in the Southwest group at present production.

The Crane and Upton county fields were given a maximum of 35,500 barrels, subject to revision. It was in this field that the dispute arose over the use of air and gas lifts, which Gulf production contended was an artificial means of stimulation which should not be used in view of the attempts to curtail output.

A separate hearing also will be held on the Reagan county (Big Lake) field, where the world's deepest wells were drilled on University of Texas lands. The report of Dave Donoghue, technical adviser for the joint operators proration committee, will be consulted at this hearing.

KILLIAM TEST IS NEAR 3000-FOOT DEPTH WEDNESDAY

Probing a new formation, the bit in the O. W. Killiam No. 1 Wilson about five miles north of Corsicana was working about the 2971 foot level shortly after noon Wednesday. The well is being put down by R. H. Deering and Sons, contractors.

Driller Sam Conn was undecided as to the exact formation but stated that it was a sand, sandy lime, and shale composite. A geologist is expected at the test within the near future to determine the formation.

The Georgetown lime was left behind at 2930 feet, and was slightly more than 550 feet thick. Drilling was suspended temporarily Wednesday afternoon while minor repairs were made to the rig before the test is drilled deeper.

A number of oil operators are watching the results of the test closely, and numerous inquiries concerning leases have been heard but little trading has occurred since the bit left the Woodbine formations at about 2000 feet.

50 Years' Use of Black-Draught

"About fifty years ago," says Mr. Lewis G. O'Shields, of Portersville, Ala., "my mother gave me the first dose of Black-Draught, and I have taken it ever since, when I needed a medicine for constipation. I have used this remedy all my married life, in raising my children.

"I have used Black-Draught for heartburn, as I have had spells of this kind, off and on, for years. This follows indigestion, and indigestion comes close on constipation.

"I have found that the best way to head off trouble is to begin taking Black-Draught in time. It relieves me of dizziness, tightness in the chest and backache.

"By getting rid of impurities, Black-Draught helps to keep the system in good order. I always keep it in the home, and have recommended it to many people, in my time."

FAIRNESS OF SUN IN RECENT CAMPAIGN PRAISED BY TILLEY

The Daily Sun received a letter Wednesday from Rice M. Tilley, formerly attorney here, now assistant attorney-general of Texas, thanking the Sun for "the fair and impartial way in which you reported the speeches of Mr. Bobbitt and Mr. Allred," candidates in the recent run-off primary race for the attorney general's ffice. Mr. Tilley, who works under T. L. Bobbitt, present attorney general, was in Corsicana several days last week working in the interest of Mr. Bobbitt's candidacy.

"As long as I have read your paper I have never heard it said of you that you were partial to any candidate in any campaign," the letter continued.

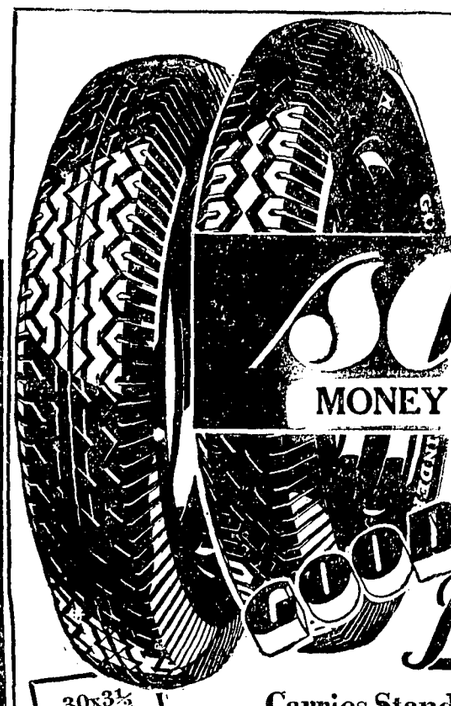

Mr. Tilley asked that the thanks of General Bobbitt and himself be extended to their many friends in Corsicana and Navarro county "who worked for us so untiringly in behalf of General Bobbitt's candidacy for his first elective term * * * the quality of friendship manifested by them is in itself ample reward for having made the race."

COTTON CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION.

office of which is located in Corsicana, is one of the twelve organizations which have united to form the American Cotton Co-operative Association. The Texas Cotton Co-Operative Association, a branch tive Association, a national organization operating under the supervision of the federal farm board.

Through a world-wide system of information, this national organization will keep in touch with crop and market conditions. Through the large volume of cotton which it will control and through the ample financing provided under the Agricultural Marketing Act, the association will exert a powerful influence on the market and command attention and respect of the cotton world. All cotton of the Texas Association will be sold through the national organization.

Many Navarro county farmers are taking advantage of the co-operative association plan to market their cotton and the number will grow in time as they become more familiar with the plan of operation. Organization of the cotton farmer to control the marketing of the crop offers the only solution to the cotton farmers' problems and the co-operative association is the logical organization needed by the cotton farmer.

MAKING TAX HISTORY.

Unique among taxes is the gasoline tax. It is making tax history, upsetting all former conceptions of this goal of organized society and contradicting the traditions and proverbs of both ancients and moderns.

The experience of government throughout the ages proved that you can make people pay taxes but you can't make them like it. Even the most submissive of citizens regard taxes as among the unavoidable evils, to be linked, in proverbs, with death—"The only sure things are death and taxes."

Colonial tea and whiskey taxes, war taxes, income taxes and luxury taxes present one side of the story. Gasoline taxes, now collected by all states, present the other side.

Last year buyers of gasoline in the United States paid gasoline taxes totaling $431,000,000. That figure exceeds property taxes assessed last year. Yet complaints against property taxes were heard on all sides, while gas taxes claimed popular favor.

The explanation for this seemingly contrary streak in human nature is to be found in another figure, that showing the expenditure of $910,485,000 by the 48 states last year for 32,522 miles of good roads.

People can be made to pay taxes and like it by giving them something for their money and the labor their tax dollars represent. The gasoline tax has that happy faculty, being translated almost immediately into improved highways for the use of taxpayers.

"A frog with six legs so jointed that it may hop in any direction is reported from California." It is not known, though how it stands on any of the important issues of the hour.

JUST FOLKS

THE BEST FISHERMAN.

God bless the fisherman who brings
Us bass and perch and finny things,
And shares his catch with men like me
Who never cast in lake or sea.
When evening sends him back to shore
With twenty-seven fish or more
And that day's high adventure ends,
'Tis then he thinks a bout his friends.

Yet many a time I've made the wish
That I could dodge all gifts of fish,
Rather my time in peace I'd pass
Than be compelled to scale a bass;
Rather I'd unremembered be
When fishermen come home from sea
Then take their gifts which can but mean
That I've a dozen perch to clean.

Paul Strasburg is a fisherman
Whose gifts come ready for the pan.
His friendliness is double proved—
Scales gone, fins off and heads removed.
All gleaming white upon a dish
He comes at evening with his fish.
God's blessings on that friend I pray
Who cleans the perch he gives away!

HIGHWAY SAFETY CONFERENCE.

The National Conference on Street and Highway Safety announces the publication of "Ways and Means to Traffic Safety," the report of its Third National Conference held in Washington May 27-28-29, 1930.

The report, which contains many recommendations for traffic improvement, embodies the consolidated results of the work of three National Conferences (1924-1926-1930) and their committees. It deals with uniform Traffic Regulation Enforcement of Traffic Laws and Regulations, Education of Highway Users, Traffic Accident Records, Construction and Maintenence of Motor Vehicles and Street and Highway Traffic Facilities.

Preceding the report is an analysis of outstanding features of the traffic problem as presented to the Conference by its chairman, Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont. Citing as a cause of great concern that since 1926 the number of fatal accidents in proportion to motor vehicles registered, instead of decreasing as had been the experience in every preceding year, has mounted sharply, Secretary Lamont noted on the other hand four encouraging signs (1) no increase in grade crossing accidents, (2) actual reduction in traffic fatalities among school children, (3) success of the drivers' license law with examination as shown by the smaller fatality increases in states which have such laws as compared with other states, (4) better records of certain cities giving special attention to traffic matters. The importance of comprehensive treatment of the traffic problem and of earnest effort on the part of all official, unofficial groups and individuals concerned was also emphasized in Mr. Lamon's statement.

Pointing out that in having largely wiped out political boundaries the motor vehicle has created a universally recognized need for uniformity in traffic laws and regulations, and that in the matter of rules of the road, meaning of traffic signals and other operating features, complete unifromity is of paramount importance, the Conference report recommends model state motor vehicle laws, municipal traffic ordinances, and standard traffic signs, signals and markings. These recommended models are available in separate pamphlets with explanatory notes appended.

The essentials for effective enforcement of traffic laws and regulations are outlined and the reader is referred to a more comprehensive treatment of the subject in the report of the Committee on Enforcement rendered to the preceding National Conference.

That the Conference appreciates the value of education of the highway user in the matter of traffic safety is evident from the number of specific recommendations made in its report as to means which may be employed toward that end.

The intelligent use of traffic accident records as a basis for the development of effective prevention work is advocated.

Pointing out that the manufacturer of motor vehicles has built safety into his product to a high degree and that fleet owners appreciate the need for exacting maintenance requirements the Conference report emphasizes the imperative need for greater attention to proper maintenance on the part of the individual owners and proposes measures to this end.

In treating the subject of Street and Highway Traffic Facilities the Conference in its report summarizes the findings of its earlier committees on Construction and Engineering, City Planning and Zoning and Metropolitan Traffic Facilities. The work done by the 1929-30 Committee on Protection of Railway Grade Crossings and the Committee on Measures for the Relief of Traffic Congestion is supplemental to and in amplification of the work of these earlier committees.

The findings and recommendations of the National Conference, as outlined in "Ways and Means" are recommended to the favorable consideration of state and municipal authorities and all others concerned with street and highway traffic.

Apropos of the matter of carrying out their recommendations, President Hoover in his address to members of the Third National conference said:

"The Federal Government can property assist in securing the spread of information and ideas and coordination of activities, but it still remains the fact, nevertheless, that the state and local authorities, with the co-operation of the public, must be responsible for the practical application of remedial measures. The remedies developed by this Conference must therefore rest for their final effectivenss upon the action of the states and the communities, supported in every possible way by the great body of citizenship.

THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW

Diabolical violence is not unusual in labor disputes, but the airplane bombing in Kentucky was a fiendish act. Only the fact that the nine bombs were amateurishly made and dropped with bad aim prevented loss of life and great property damage.

Kentucky has no law imposing for this heinous and barbarous offense a penalty commensurate with the nature of the crime, not even the most fanciful of lawmakers having foreseen how dangerous a weapon aviation would place in the hands of the unconscionable.

There having been no special law for this crime on the Kentucky statute books, at the time of the bombing, there naturally were many who said there ought to be a law. And this talk of another law wasn't limited to the blue grass country. The outraged citizenry wanted a federal law.

States may be laggards in dealing with crime and the airplane does defy state boundaries, but neither of these arguments, nor both of them, outweigh the accumulated objections to extending the federal police powers.

The individual states are better able to deal with their unsocial members than is the Washington bureaucracy, and that is the right and duty of the state governments. Moreover, no one ever heard of the wheels of federal justice breaking speed records.

Few if any, of our larger bronze monuments have been erected to the memory of gentlemen who felt it compulsory to have their initials stamped on their cigarettes.

It costs $12,000 a year to launder the elephants of a large circus. They are regularly soaped, sandpapered and rubbed with olive oil. Yet very few acheive that schoolgirl complexion.

AN UNEMPLOYMENT SITUATION

THEY SERVE

Reader interest is the reason for every newspaper department. In any group of readers there will be no two with identical newspaper likes and dislikes, but if the group is large enough to cover the broad field of newspaper departments there will be a champion for each department.

There are those to whom no printed page appears less attractive than a page of classified advertisements, and yet this department is the one to which many readers turn first upon opening their paper. To the latter it is as important as front page news or the sport pages are to others.

To a very wide range of readers the classified ad columns furnish good reading. There they find human interest, opportunities, news of their friends and neighbors in the form of "For Sale" and "Wanted" ads and a daily record of real estate and used car markets.

Occasionally the constant reader will find even humor in these columns. Humorous magazines and colmunists draw many "howlers" from them. But if one were to turn to these pages to laugh he might remain to buy.

There is no exaggeration in the statement that there comes a time in every life when the classified ad pages are turned to gratefully. They truly serve mankind.

RAIL MERGER.

"Announcement is made that the Southern Pacific railroad has bought the control of the Cotton Belt railroad and will ask for permission of the Interstate Commerce Commisison to consolidate the two systems," editorially observes Southwestern Resources recently. Continuing the editorial discusses the proposed consolidation as follows:

"This is a far better arrangement as far as Texas is concerned, than the proposal of the Interstate Commerce Commission to consolidate the Cotton Belt with the Illinois Central, which latter system has no interest whatever in Texas, and is a natural opponent of routing business to or through Texas ports, having its own port at New Orleans.

"The combining of the Southern Pacific and Cotton Belt will be a fine thing for Texas. These are natural allies and in no sense competitors, and the result will be a strengthening of our through service between Texas and the East, which means better service both freight and passenger for patrons of both sides."

FACT-FINDERS DISBAND.

Five of President Hoover's commissions have been disbanded, a fact welcomed with the same enthusiasm that hailed the appointment of these bodies.

The public complains not so much against the formation of commissions but against the refusal of commissions to dissolve when their work has been completed. And usually commissions, especially those with a large appropriation or useful powers attached, are reluctant to close up shop.

If the dead timber is to be cleared away as soon as it is dead, there can be no objection to the president building temporary bridges to otherwise inaccessible stores of information. Too often politics and patronage require the maintaining of these bridges at great cost long after they have served their purpose.

There will be no public complaint if the president's commissions still at work complete their respective tasks with the same dispatch that has been shown by the disbanding five and give up the ghost with equal equanimity.

Nor is there lack of appreciation of the services rendered the government and the nation by the five dismissed commissions. The Haiti, San Francisco Bay bridge, veterans' affairs, railroad arbitration and naval limitations commissions accomplished something, and what more need be said of any governmental body?

GOVERNOR MOODY INVITES STATES JOIN NEW PLAN

AUSTIN, Aug. 26.—(AP)—An appeal to governors of Southern states to join with him in a "Buy a bale of cotton movement" similar to that of 1914 was made today by Governor Dan Moody.

In a telegram to each governor in the cotton belt, the governor urged they join in a nation-wide appeal for all who have the means to buy a bale of the 1930 crop at fifteen cents a pound and take it off the market.

"If they will join with e," Moody said, "and the people of the nation respond as they should, we ought to be able to take five million bales off the market and aise the price.

"In additional it would give the farmers of the South, who are now suffering from drought and low prices, something for their cotton and their effort—something approaching a fair return.

Moody suggested that in their individual appeals the governors specify that the need was to purchase the "distressed" cotton—that which was not under contract to co-operatives and the owners of which were in actual need.

The cost of each bale, at fifteen cents, would ze approximately $75. The present market price was said to be approximately $50.

The governor recalled the successful campaign of this sort in 1914, when the price of cotton went as low as eight cents and the movement was to buy at ten cents. Every person who bought a bale, Moody said, received every cent back when the price went up.

He appealed to the people to buy a bale "and then forget all about it."

Approval Expected

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Walter Hadley, secretary to Governor W. J. Holloway, said today that while Governor Holloway was out of the state, he probably would approve a plan of Governor Dan Moody of Texas to "Buy a Bale of Cotton" when he returns tomorrow.

PROGRAM OF HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS BEING ARRANGED

MUST BE MADE OUT BEFORE OPENING DAY OF SCHOOL, SEPTEMBER 15

All high school students are to have their programs made before the opening day which is Monday, September 15. The schedule of classes for the high school has been arranged and will be printed in Saturday's Daily Sun. Schedule making has already begun and students who are anticipating a difficult schedule are advised to have their programs made as early as possible. Certain sections can care for only a limited number and those coming late will be compelled to elect other subjects for this half year.

A modification of the history requirements for graduation has been made. The state board of education has introduced a one-year course of world history (General history). At present, our history requirements for graduation are one credit in modern history and one credit in American history. The courses in both ancient, modern and world history will be given, but credits may not be counted in both. Children below the ninth grade will not be permitted to take the course in world history. Those students not wishing credits in both ancient and modern history may elect to wait until classified as ninth grade students and then take the world history course which will be accepted in lieu of the present requirement of modern history.

Students who did not attend school in Corsicana last year and who are to be classified in the high eighth grade, or above, must be classified by the high school principal before September 12, if they expect admission on the opening day. The other duties of the principal on the opening day of school will likely delay new admissions after that date. Students who are interested in school and are desirous of doing good work will come to the high school and have their programs made before Friday, September 12. All programs will have been made and teachers will meet their classes in regular schedule on Monday, September 15.

State Fair Show For This Season Has Huge Cast

DALLAS, Aug. 28. — "Sons o' Guns', the musical comedy which will be presented in the State Fair auditorium during fair season, Oct. 11 to 26, will bring to Texas the largest cast ever brought to this state in a single company, it has been announced here by T. E. Jackson, president of the exposition.

"Sons o' Guns" has just completed one of the most successful runs any musical comedy ever enjoyed on Broadway—288 performances, and was the only large show to remain open to good business during the terrific heat of this year.

The cast being brought to the State Fair of Texas, has 130 Broadway stars, headed by Jack Donahue, widely known comedian, and Gina Malo, fascinating star of French music halls who has been brought to this country for "Sons o Guns."

The State Fair piece is the first comedy to treat of the lighter side of he World War, and has been hailed by New York critics as the classic of the day. The company will arrive in Dallas direct from New York in special trains.

President Jackson of the State Fair has announced that reservations for "Sons o' Guns" are already being received in each mail, and orders are being filled in the order received. He has predicted a "sell-out" business for the Dallas engagement og "Sons o' Guns."

The man who left without leave had been released by the officers Tuesday night after the affray and he returned to Corsicana Wednesday and remained here until Wednesday night, leaving only a short time before his case was scheduled for trial. Local officers will go for the man during Thursday, it was intimated.

DRUM AND BUGLE CORPS TO PARADE FRIDAY EVENING

The local drum and bugle corps of the American Legion Post No. 22 will stage a parade in their new uniforms Friday evening promptly at 6:30 o'clock starting from the post office and marching up Main street thence to Beaton, down to Seventh avenue, and back to the starting point.

This organization, which is only five months old, has already made itself a name according to critics connected with musical units in the American Legion in Texas. They have just been equipped with some snappy uniforms and this will be their first appearance in their new regalia, and incidentally their final rehearsal before going to the Legion meet in Austin next Monday.

The outfit, under command of Drum Major Harry Dickson, have learned to execute several novelty drills and the public is cordially invited to see this live musical unit go through their formations on the streets next Friday.

The boys are going to give Corsicana lots of publicity and in view of the fact that State Commander Ernest Cox is a member of the local post, the boys feel the more enthusiastic.

CONDITOINS ABOUT KERENS ARE BETTER THAN ANTICIPATED

KERENS, Aug. 28.—(Spl.)—The cotton receipts fo rthe three yards here at 10:30 Wednesday morning were 5,023 bales. This cotton was not all ginned at Kerens, some being brought here from across Richland creek and Trinity river. The crop here this year according to gin men and merchants will be at least 6000 bales under 1930.

Cotton seed here Wednesday was selling at $27.00 per ton, compared with $32.00 this time last year.

Bankers and farmers say Kerens farmers are about as well fixed on feed for 1931 as usual in spite of the drouth, as a large acreage was planted in feterita, maize and sorghum, although the corn crop was reduced on account of the drouth.

The rain Monday was a great help to farmers who depended on cisterns for their drinking water. The rain filled their cisterns but was not enough for stock water.

A large number of people were seen on the streets here Monday, buying turnip seed to sow land they had broken. The rain in some places was enough to break sorghum and oat fields.

Prospects doesn't seem as bad as they did a few weeks ago, since the Monday's rain.

Indigestion

Immediate Relief!

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

GEORGIA GOVERNOR BELIEVES FIFTEEN CENTS NOT ENOUGH

HARDEMAN WILLING JOIN IN PLANS AND SUGGESTS CONFERENCE ON MATTER

AUSTIN, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The suggestion that Governor Moody's figure of fifteen cents a pound in his "buy a bale of cotton" movement was insufficient was made today in a telegram from Governor Hardeman of Georgia.

Hardeman said he was willing to join with governors of Southern states in any movement to relieve the plight of farmers but thought that more should be obtained for the cotton. He also suggested a conference of the executives with business men to work out details of the campaign.

Governor Moody was still negotiating with Washington officials regarding immediate help for Texas drought stricken farmers.

AUSTIN, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Governor Dan Moody today awaited replies to telegrams sent in an effort to obtain drought relief for Texas farmers, especially farmers in West Texas.

The governor set the wheels in motion in several different directions yesterday. He launched a "Buy a Bale of Cotton" movement, similar to that of 1914; telegraphed the American Red Cross to ascertain how much of its drought relief fund was available to Texas; telegraphed Secretary of Agriculture Hyde the names of Texas counties in which the need for reduced freight rates on livestock and feed was imperative; added a number of names to the drought committee which will meet in Wichita Falls Friday and promised to go personally to Washington to obtain emergency loans for farmers if funds were available.

Moody had one reply to his "buy a bale" movement, in which he asked governors of all Southern states to join. The reply was from Governor John Garland Pollard of Virginia who promised to join in the movement.

His proposal was that governors of the South make an appeal to people of the nation to buy a bale fifteen cents a pound, several cents above the market, and thus stabilize the price and take perhaps as much as 5,000,000 bales off the market.

His communications with Washington officials followed a long conference with a delegation of twenty or more representatives of the West Texas chamber of commerce and the drought stricken areas. They outlined to him the extent of the drought, leading him to inform Secretary Hyde that conditions were "distressing."

In the event no funds are available for emergency loans, Moody promised to join with governors of other drought hit states in a request that President Hoover call a special session of congress to make an appropriation.

Counties reported to be the worst stricken were Hall, Childress, Hardeman, Wilbarger, Foard, Cottle, Motley, King, Knox, Baylor, Throckmorton, Floyd, Bailey, Crosby, Dickens Haskell, Stonewall, Kent, Garza, Lynn, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Jones, Shackleford, Stephens Eastland, Callahan, Taylor, Nolan, Mitchell, Howard, Martin, Sterling, Coke, Runnels and Coleman.

Most of the suffering is confined to this area although serious conditions are reported to prevail in other counties in the Panhandle plains section No list of these counties was available at the office of Governor Moody but it was expected conditions in these counties would be discussed at the Wichita Falls meeting.

Holloway Moves Slowly.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Until Governor Holloway has discussed the matter with officials of the Boar dof Agriculture, the Agricultural and Mechanical College and farm organizations, he will not join Governor Dan Moody of Texas in the "Buy a Bale of Cotton" movement.

Answering a telegram from Governor Moody inviting him to join Texas in requesting citizens purchase cotton and take it off the market, Governor Holloway said he had the request under consideration and would give his answer within the next few days.

Dallas County Man Dies After Early Shooting

DALLAS, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Carl Cochran of Grand Prairie died in a hospital here today of gunshot wounds received early this morning when chased in his automobile for 10 miles and shot at by his pursuer. Russell Bullard of the same community was in jail here today charged with murder.

Bullard, who has been working on a construction job at Seagorville and returning home about two nights a week, was alleged to have pursued and shot at a man in an automobile after Mrs. Bullard came home in an automobile early this morning.

Bullard, 26, gravel inspector for a construction company, admitted the shooting to newspapermen. Cochran, 28, was a garage employee.

Bullard said that when he went home shortly after midnight his wife was not there. He stated that about 2:30 o'clock an automobile drove up and his wife alighted.

"As I started out toward the car the man in it started to drive off," Bullard said. "I told him to wait a moment but he did not. I jumped in my car and followed him.

"Finally I fired several shots at the rear of his car in an effort to stop him. Suddenly he swerved his car to the side of the road and it came to a halt. A man was crumpled over the steering wheel. There was blood on his shirt and I knew I had shot him. I called an ambulance and then surrendered to officers."

T. B. Bullard of Denton, father of the accused man, why trying to arrange $10,000 bond. Bullard had been married three years and had no children. Cochran had one child.

IN MEMORY OF LITTLE NATHAN TINKLE PARRISH.
Age 24 Months.

On August 13, 1930 at 5:30 p. m. the death angel came into our midst and took away our ittle Nathan to heaven. It was so hard to give him up, but he has gone to be with Jesus where there will be no more suffering. All was done that loving hands could do, but to no avail, for God said, came little one. I will give you rest. God's will be done, not ours. We can not understand why he took our little one away though it makes heaven nearer and dearer.

The angels came and took him away and now our hearts are, oh, so lonely without him. Took our little rosebud from our home to bloom in heaven.

He leaves a father, mother, two brothers, two sisters and a host of relatives to mourn his loss. We can not say to you, weep not for him, for I know your hearts are bleeding and, oh, so lonely, but I can say, look to God for he alone can heal your broken hearts.

His little eyes are closed in death,
His little voice is stilled.
There is a vacancy in our home
That never can be filled.

We miss his little footsteps,
We miss his little smiles,
But hes' gone to live with Jesus
Anr reign with him on high.

Oh, how we long to see him
And clasp him toour hearts.
But we're going to meet him in heaven
Where we never more will part

His Auntie,
MRS. W. A. TURNER.

HUMBLE OILERS TO MEET JACKSONVILLE TEAM NEXT SUNDAY

The Humble Oilers of Corsicana will cross bats with the powerful nine of Jacksonville next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the Humble diamond which is located on the Davis lease in the southeast edge of the oil field. This game was scheduled for last Sunday but was rained out.

Signs have been put up starting from the Three Way filling station to enable strangers in the oil field to locate the playing field. An admission of 25 cents will be charged adults, and children can go in free.

A practice game between the Corsicana Humble nine and an all-star team picked from the Navarro, Providence and Angus teams, will be played Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock on the Humble diamond. No admission will be charged for this game.

YOUNG WILL QUIT POST AS GOVERNOR OF RESERVE BOARD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(Spl).—Roy A. Young will leave his post as governor of the Federal Reserve Board Sept. 1 to become governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston at a considerably increased salary.

His resignation after three years service was attributed in a letter to President Hoover, made public late yesterday, to the need of a higher salaried position in the private banking world. His present post pays only $12,000 a year while the Boston governorship will give him at least twice that amount.

Young told the president he had posponed his resignation until the disturbed state of the coutnry's credit conditions had settled down.

"Now," he said, "it is clearly evident that the credit structure of the country is an easy and exceptionally strong position."

Young is only 48 but has had a distinguished financial career. He is a native of Marquette, Michigan.

Mrs. George Baum and two daughters have returned from California, where they have been for the summer.

FINANCIERS WORK OUT MEASURE FOR STRICKEN FARMERS

LOCAL CREDIT CORPORATIONS AND INTERMEDIATE BANKS GIVEN APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Establishment of local credit corporations to act as intermediaries between drouth-stricken farmers and intermediate credit banks was formally approved today by banking representatives of relief committees of more than a dozen states.

The conference convened yesterday at the White House and met today with Secretary Hyde, chairman of the National Drouth Relief committee. It adjourned immediately after approving the plan, which will be submitted to President Hoover and to governors of the affected states.

Under the approved plan, which was proposed by the national committee, local credit corporations would be created to advance loans to farmers through the intermediate credit banks established wherever necessary.

Farmers would receive the money from the intermediate bank on the endorsement of the credit corporation which would be permitted to charge an interest rate of 2 per cent above that of the intermediate credit bank. The interest rate now is four per cent, making six percent the maximum interest rate to farmers.

Leading Bankers Studied Problems

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The financial representatives of fifteen states, meeting today with Secretary Hyde to complete drought relief plans, had before them the results of an overnight study by three leading bankers.

Melvin A. Traylor of Chicago, Nicholas Dosker of Louisville nd Morton Prentiss of Baltimore were appointed at a conference yesterday with President Hoover to prepare recommendations for utilizing available financing agencies. Their work was based on a broad plan of setting up state and local credit corporations to act as intermediaries in handling loans to farmers of the affected regions.

The task of the bankers today was to fill in he general plan with working details applicable to each local condition. After yesterda.'s session stres sagain was laid on the local character of the relief needed and conviction was expressed nat local agencies could best deal with the problem. The meetings ar under the chairmanship of Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker, who is a member of the national drouth relief committee set up by the president to co-ordinate federal and state efforts.

An optimistic note in the general agricultural picture was seen in yesterday's agriculture department report that farmers intended seeding 4.5 per cent less winter wheat this season than last year.

The agriculture department also said conditions were favorable for a material advance in cattle prices during the next year.

Plan Extension of Credit to Farmers

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Governor Holloway's drought relief commission was called together today to consider proposed extension of credit to farmers who failed on loans because of loss of crops and the speeding of public construction.

Members of the commission expressed confidence farm agencies and banks would loosen purse strings and that public building scheduled for erection next year would be started as soon as possible to provide employment.

The commission, headed by J. G. Puterbaugh, McAlester, also was to hear crop reports from many of the state's 77 counties. Personnel of numerous county drought relief committees already has been determined, and prompt organization in others is being urged.

Under the plan proposed by the national drought relief commission, Oklahoma credit corporations would act as the intermediary between farmers and intermediate credit banks. A maximum suggested rate of interest, probably not to exceed six per cent, may be agreed upon.

Red Cross officials also were prepared to present reports on conditions in the dozen counties suffering most from lack of rainfall.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The weather bureau said today that although the drought largely has been broken in Oklahoma, the lack of rainfall was deteriorating crops in Northern Louisiana and much of Mississippi.

Generally conditions in Oklahoma are spotted, the bureau added, while "the progress of otton was mostly fair to good in the parts of Arkansas receiving rains last week."

"Recently showers have been beneficial in Tennessee and Alagama," the bureau said, "while in most eastern states of the belt conditions continued generally satisfactory with not material deterioration. Picking has begun as far north as Southern North Carolina.

"Substantial to heavy rains occurred over a considerable area from Wistern North Carolina and Eastern Tennessee southwards, while they were moderate to general rather generally fro mNorthern Texas northward over the great plains states to South Dakota."

Drought Is Broken

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The weather bureau today said the drought in Kansas, Nebraska and South Dakota had been effectively broken by rains during the last week and that the soil is generally in good condition.

Over the rest of the drought area, however, insufficient rains were reported.

STRANGE ILLNESS ATTACKS EXPLORERS OF SMALL CAVES

AUSTIN, Aug. 26.—(AP)—A strange illness has stricken a number of seekers of Spanish treasure, and federal health authorities have been asked to investigate.

The latest victims were four Austin youths, C. J. Looke, Bird Kohn, Ned Litten and Hubert Ravey. They became seriously ill after searching a cave in Mills county for gold which legend has said was concealed there by Santa Ana, the Mexican general of Texas revolutionary fame.

Preliminary investigation indicated the illness was caused by bites of a small tick. Characteristics of the illness were described as high fever, chills, aching bones, sweating and nausea, with temporary recuperation and inevitable relapse.

Others who were attacked were a family of five residing at Goldthwaite which explored the cave, and Dr. G. M. Graham, Austin blood specialist, who experimented with the ticks.

The State Health department, meanwhile, warned people to keep out of small caves.

Freestone Drought Broken on Monday

TEAGUE, Aug. 27.—(Spl)—Soaking rains visited this section Sunday and Monday, being the first real rain to fall in this section since last May. Very little damage was done to open cotton, and it is probable that a top crop will be made if frost holds off until late in the season.

The rain will enable farmers to have good grass for stock, and will make it possible to raise gardens and fall grains.

SECRETARY OF WAR TO MAKE SURVEY OF WORK BEING DONE ALONG MISSISSIPPI RIVER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Undertaking the most thorough and extensive survey of America's greatest engineering project yet made, Patrick J. Hurley, secretary of war, will leave the latter part of the week for an inspection of the Mississippi waterways system from Minneapolis to the Gulf of Mexico.

The secretary has a three-fold purpose in mind in making the trip by boat from the Upper Mississippi to New Orleans. He wishes to gain first hand information on inland waterway enterprises, flood control projects and rivers and harbors works so in discussing these questions with President Hoover and advisers in Washington, he will have an intimate picture of each situation.

Next, the trip will enable the secretary to survey such projects as army engineers believe would benefit local unemployment by being expedited. Almost equally important the secretary believes will be conferences with local interests and consultations with army engineers on the ground. Each of the district engineers will be ordered aboard the secrtary's boat th moment it reaches their territory to tell him districts.

PRESIDENT GREETS VISITING LAWYERS IN BEHALF NATION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—(AP)—President Hoover today extended a formal greeting to members of the foreign bar and bench now visiting in Washington.

"I wish to take this occasion," the President said, "to say how gratified I am at the presence in Washington today of the visiting lawyers and judges from Great Britain and Ireland, France and Canada.

"These gentlemen are amongst the most eminent members of the bench and bar of their countries, and as a group are one of the most distinguished delegations ever to visit the United States.

"As they come as a gesture of the friendliness and good will of the nations which they represent, I take their visit as a very high compliment to us.

"The American bar represents our country as their hosts, but I know that I speak the thoughts of our people when I say that in a large sense they are whole heartedly the guests of the entire nation. We welcome them most cordially.

The visiting barristers were invited to a lawn party this afternoon at the White House.

Countryman's Plain Ideas Shook Society In Olden Day

One Farmer Who Saw the Significance of the Life of His Times . . . Amos, Fig-Pincher and Herdsman Became Great Prophet, With a Message Which Applies Today.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

More persons know about the Amos of the present-day radio than are familiar with the callous-handed and callous-footed farmer of 23 hundred years ago, who became one of the greatest prophets of Israel; the first of them all to reduce his message to writing. Yet the message of this long ago Amos is of greater present potency and importance than any of the delightfully clever philosophy that another Amos speaks over the air.

Amos was a farmer in a barren land. His special work was that of a shepherd and, in season, a pincher of sycamore figs—for to this day, in Palestine, the little figs of the scrawny sycamore tree are prepared for pollenization by being pinched by hand; a lowly, arduous and uninspiring labor. No "gentleman farmer" was Amos; but a grimy, humble son of toil, who wrested a meagre livelihood from the fields of Tekoa, a few miles south of Jerusalem, looking toward the Dead Sea. His only theological seminary—for he disclaimed being one of the "sons of the prophets"—was hard work, loneliness and plenty of time for thinking.

A Farmer With Seeing Eyes

This countryman, Amos, had a seeing eye. While he worked, he thought over the meaning of things. He looked beyond his own personal interests to the bigger significance of life.

Four characteristics made him what he became—a deathless voice lifted in behalf of social justice. First, he identified himself with the cause of all the poor and the oppressed. Second, he was possessed by a passion of patriotism. Third, he saw everything in its relation to the character of Jehovah. Fourth, he had a simple, outspoken quality of boldness, which led him to fear neither the ban of the priest nor the sword of the king.

That is all. Amos had got hold of life in its fundamentals and in its relationships. What he knew he knew, and spoke it aloud. He was as free from false modesty as from false pride. To tell the truth that he possessed, and that the world needed, was as natural for him is to tend his sheep.

Are New Prophets Needed?

Widely prevalent is the notion that a prophet for the present is some high, rare, separated spirit who has discovered a new truth for the times. Thus we have our present craze for novelty, which has chiefly resulted in the shameless presentation of rubbish from the scrap-heaps of the ages—ideas that were outworn and discarded long ago. This explains the modern body-cult, the flood of sensual literature, the exaltation of selfishness, the apotheosis of materialism. These are things that civilization outgrew; but we are reverting to them because they are wrongly labelled "modern!"

There was nothing new in what Amos proclaimed, nearly eight centuries before Christ. His message was as old as Moses. His power lay in proclaiming the great verities of justice and of human rights with all the passion of a soul dominated by the conviction that what he spoke ws the truth of the living God.

Many moderns have a horror of not being "up to date;" they seize avidly upon whatever is offered as new, no matter how musty and mouldy it smells. Whereas, there are no new truths. Many facts are newly known; but not truths. Man's needs and mans' duties, both of the body and of the spirit, are fundamentally changeless. Our lack is for the clear application of these truths.

Prophets in the Press.

Who are the real prophets inthe pulpit today? Are they the literary dilletantes, with phraseology so finely spun as to be nebulous, sketchily presenting "latest" truths? Not at all; they are the men woh have a clear vision of God's oft-revealed will and of man's changeless needs.

Anybody who recalls us to the ancient and yet everyday simplicities of human rights and human duties may be said to wear the mantle of Amos. I, for one, would spread it upon the shoulders of that noble company of newspaper writers who, day after day, week after week, year after year, proclaim to millions, tach in his own way, the wholesome message of uprightness, duty, sympathy, cheer and noble living—such as Edward Guest, Robert Quillen, Dorothy Dix, Walt Mason, Angelo Patri and their kind. "Mere Newspaper scribblers," snorts a highbrow. Not so; they are prophets of righteousness, and modern ministers of truth and beauty.

As Maltbie D. Babcock once pointed out, the prophet is less a foreteller than a forth-teller. He speaks out the truth which other men may know but do not tell. Amos made living realities out of the book-buried teachings of his predecessors. To him it was of immediate concern that his fellow countrymen were being oppressed and exploited by the official class and by the wealthy. So he cried aloud the judgment of God upon them as if it had that day come freshly from heaven.

A Prophet of Patriotism.

In addition to the plain man's sense of justice, and deep conviction of God, Amos also had the plain mans' patriotism. In "intellectual" circles it is fashionable to decry patriotism; but not amidst the straight-thinking toilers. Love of country—of its soil, of its history and traditions, of its people and of its institutions—thrives best amidst rural folks.

So Amos saw all the sins of his day—debauchery, tyranny, exploitation, usury, barren intellectualism instead of vital religion—in terms of his nation. And he dared to say, to the great embarrassment of the rich and the rulers, that the country would have to pay the price of all this private and public iniquity. Powerful pressure was brought to bear to close the lips of this "indirect" patriot; but because he was [illegible] and free, and fared only God, Amos could not be si[illegible]

There is something awesome about the man of clear, strong convictions who insists upon being heard, in spite of all opposition. He is more powerful than an army with banners. No might or machinations can withstand him. Through his word, truth sets men free. This is the sort of prophet, preaching the old, simple, explicit, Divine work of righteousness, which every one of our cities, and every naton needs.

The Amos Job for Today.

With the regal gesture of an ambassador of the Most High, this countryman from the bleak hills of Judea pronounced doom upon the surrounding nations, as well as upon the renegade Jews. His world, bounded by Edom and Moab and Amman and Syria and Tyre and Philistia, seems pitifully small to those of us who are watching eagerly the news from Changsha and Peshawar and Bombay and Ararat and Moscow; but Amos was a real internationalist, because a patriot. He saw God's hand in the affairs of all nations.

This sense that God must be reckoned with; and that He is a God of justice, the champion of the poor and the afflicted; is what gives authority to every prophet, be he an editorial writer, a newspaper contributor, a Bible class teacher, a legislator, a judge, a preacher or a teacher. When each man stands in his own place, and declares the clear counsel of the Lord for his present time and his present condition, then the Amos job is being carried on.

Often Amos is called the prophet of social justice, the most contemporary of Old Testament figures. Our day seems only to be catching up to his intepretation of religion. That is merely because truth, being true, fits all times. God's will for old Israel is one with His will for modern nations—that without righteousness there can be no religion.

Vast Fortune Left By Slick Oil Operator

CLARION, Pa., Aug. 27.—(AP)—An estate estimated at between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000 was disposed of in the will of Thomas B. Slick, independent oil operator, which was probated today. Slick was reputed to be the wealthiest independent oil operator in the world.

The vast fortune was left to the widow, three children and Slick's mother. While no estimate of the value of the estate was contained in the will, Slick's attorney and others who were closely associated with him provided an estimate.

The oil operator's mother, Mrs. Mary Slick of Clarion, was provided with $5,000 a year as long as she lives.

The widow, Bernice Slick of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, was left one-third of the remainder of the estate and the remaining two-thirds was left in trust to the three children.

Slick was the son of a miller and was employed in his early years as a teamster in the Pennsylvania oil fields. He went to the southern Illinois fields in young manhood and began to amass his fortune. His first properties were sold for $2,500,000.

The first well in the Cushing field in the southwest was drilled by Slick. The Prairie Oil & Gas Company bought his holdings in 1929 for $45,000,000.

New operations in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas were engaging the oil man's attentions when he entered the hospital at Baltimore. He had undergone a goiter operation and death resulted from a cerebral hemorrhage on August 16.

Personnel Unchanged.

CORSICANA BRANCH COTTON OFFICE TO PAY NEW ADVANCES

NINETY PER CENT OF VALUE TO BE ANNOUNCED ON SEASONAL POOL COTTON

Because of the location of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association office in Corsicana, farmers of this territory can immediately receive the full ninety percent advance on cotton as authorized this week by the federal farm board.

W. C. Gillean, federally licensed classer in charge of the office here, said today that the 90 percent advance gives the farmer within about five dollars a bale of the full value of his cotton on the day's market, and saves him from the necessity of selling at this time. "Cotton on which this advance is made is placed in the seasonal pool of the association and merchandised gradually throughout the season, as demand for it develops," the classer said. "The strengthening effect of such a policy is shown in cotton market reports carried in yesterday's newspapers, which said: 'Developments which caused the advance were the raise in loan basis of the farm board from 75 percent of market value to 90 percent, reports that the holding movement was spreading, and that large quantities of cotton were going to the cooperatives!"

The full 90 percent advance is made only on cotton placed in the seasonal pool, and after it is graded and stapled, the grading and stapling being done immediately upon presentation of samples at the office here. Banks or receiving agents of the association are authorized to handle members' drafts for a smaller initial advance, and the difference will be paid as soon as samples have been received at this office or state headquarters.

No "Comeback" on Members

Regardless of what the market might drop to later, there is no "comeback" on the member who receives an advance on cotton through the seasonal pool, the classer announced. Additional payments will be made from time to time during the season, as the cotton is sold, and final payment of the difference between the advance and the price which the association receives (less expenses) must be made by July 31, according to the association's contract with members.

A local man who has loaned large amounts to farmers was quoted by the classer as saying that "under this plan, the cotton grower receives almost the full market value, and can assign his remaining interest in the cotton to the man who may hold a mortgage on it, with the possibility of later payments amounting to a considerable sum should the market advance. An opportunity is thus given for the farmer to pay off his debt which he probably could not do by making an outright sale at present prices."

In the price fixation pool, where the member retains the right to name the date on which his cotton is sold, ten dollars a bale is deducted from the advance and held as margin. In case of a decline in the market which threatens the loan value of pr[illegible] fixation cotton, the member will be required to put up more margin or risk being rlosed out.

FIRST ATTEMPT TO REGULATE OUTPUT OF OIL IN EFFECT

AUSTIN, Aug. 27.—(AP)—A compromise proration order, exempting all wells producing 25 barrels or less per day and setting the maximum production as 80,000 barrels, was adopted by the state railroad commission today for Panhandle oil field.

AUSTIN, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The first attempt of Texas to regulate production in the state oil industry went into effect at 7 o'clock this morning in the form of a proration order setting maximum productions for every field in the state.

While no maximum was set for the state, the total allowable state production when the proration schedule has been made effective in all sections will be approximately 764,000 barrels, compared to an estimated production of 863,000 barrels previously.

This amount, however, will not be adhered to for several days until disputes in two or more fields have been settled and the gulf coast field, by cessation of drilling, cuts production from 174,000 to 150,000 barrels. The coastal fields have been given 30 days to make this reduction without choking in present production.

The railroad commission, which issued the order, today had called a hearing on the methods for enforcing the proration plan in the Panhandle field.

That section was given a total of 80,000 barrels but the figure may be changed after the hearing.

AUSTIN, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Relative merits of two proration plans to reduce production in the Panhandle area to 80,000 barrels daily were argued before the state railroad commission today, with the probability that the commission would decide between the two today.

The first, proposed by a committee of operators, has as its outstanding feature the elimination of 50 barrel wells from proration. The second plan, proposed by Phillips Petroleum and other operators, would make the curtailment order applicable to all well, regardless of production.

The hearing developed into a dispute between J. H. Clark of the Midwest Exploration company, chairman of the Panhandle proration committee, and Don Emery, attorney for Phillips.

Clark, picturing conditions in the Panhandle and the need for curtailment, said that production in the field averaged 100,000 barrels daily from 1,778 wells, of which 1,308 wells were producing 59 barrels or less a day. The total output of the smaller wells was less than 20 per cent of the total production of the field.

He said there was in steel storage 18,200,947 barrels of oil on July 30, this due to the inability to find an outlet and that major pipe line companies were curtailing their nominations. Some operators, said, had been forced to sacrifice their oil by shipping it out in tank cars and paying transportation costs.

The proration committee, he said ha darrived at the 50 barrel well exemption on the theory that because of diverse conditions of fields in the Panhandle, some plan was needed simple enough to spread the proration equitably without the necessity of making a separate plan for each field. The committee also worked on the theory, he said, that the curtailment burden should be borne by flush production.

Emery and his associates contended that the plan primarily would cause waste, although the statewide proration order was issued presumably to prevent waste. He cited the example of adjacent leases, on one of which he average well production was 50 barrels or less, on the other above 50 barrels.

The lease with the lower production would not be prorated. The other lease would be subject to proration above the 50 barrel limit. This, he contended, would result in unequal withdrawal of oil a between the two leases, and he referred to testimony previously submitted to the commission that unequal withdrawal of oil caused underground waste.

None of the operators represented at the hearing appeared to oppose curtailment, but several objected to the committee's plan.

SUGGESTION MADE UNITED STATES ACT SAVE LIFE LEGUIA

SPEAKER AT POLITICAL INSTITUTE SAYS DEPOSED PRESIDENT'S WORK GOOD

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 28.—(AP)—A suggestion that the American government act to protect the life of Augusto B. Leguia, deposed president of Peru, was advanced by Professor Jesse S. Reeves of the University of Michigan at the round table on Pan-American problems at the Institute of Politics today.

He declared such action would be out of respect for and appreciation of a man, who, in spite of his faults, accomplished more for the development of Peru during his eleven years in office than is to be found in any similar period of its history."

He said since we would be acting upon a humanitarian motive, "it is not likely that the tender of our good offices would be construed as an act of intervention."

In the round table conference on limitations of armaments, Admiral Athur J. Hepburn, chief of staff of the United States fleet, said the United States should join the League of Nations "as the only logical means of taking a positive action toward the stabilization of world peace."

The preventive and security provisions of the League covenant are its most important features, he said, and "these features have been obscured and their importance discredited in public opinion by the league's insistence upon disarmament as its most immediate and urgent undertaking."

He pointed to the achievements of limitation of armaments at the Washington and London conferences as forming "the most potent influence working toward the preservatio of peace and future reduction of armaments."

Yusuke Tsurumi, former member of the Japanese imperial diet, told members of the round table conference on the Far Eastern situation that there "is no reason why the three major naval powers cannot work out a new concord in which a new China policy should be formulated," if the growing desire of the new democracy of Janpan is clearly understood. "For Japan's own existence as well as for the peace of the world, this concerted action is essential," he declared.

CAPONE ATTORNEY WITNESS ALLEGED ASSASSINATION PLOT

CLAIMED HE KNEW NOTHING OF ALLEGED PLAN TO KILL FLORIDA GOVERNOR

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 28.—Vincent G. Giblin of Miami, an attorney for "Scarface" Al Capone, testified today at a preliminary hearing for three men charged with a conspiracy to assassinate Governor Doyle E. Carlton that he has not heard Fred O. Eberhardt, one of the defendants, say anything

Giblin, who related yesterday how he played the role of an investigator to prevent the assassination, said neither had he heard Henry Halzema, another defendant, say anything about a plot. In fact, said Giblin, who was under cross examination, he never saw Halzema at all until after the arrests.

Giblin testified yesterday that Frank Ralls, the third defendant, told him three men were ready "to bump off the governor."

He said Capone never knew that he came to Jacksonville from Miami to investigate the case.

After hearing reports that the plot existed, Giblin said he conferred with J. F. Gordon, a Miami lawyer, who is associated with him in representing Capone. He said they decided that there "wasn't anyhting to the reports."

Giblin said Clem Dowlin, Rall's former room mate, telephoned Gordon about the alleged plot and both Giblin and Gordon came to Jacksonville and met Dowling. Before coming here, Giblin said Gordon had discussed the reports with George McCall, clerk of the criminal court at Miami, who took up the matter with the governor.

HEADACHES.

Mrs. F. writes: "One day when motoring, the heat and smell of tar on the new road made me very ill. Had to rest in the shade until sundown. Had severe pains in back of neck, eyes felt as if they were being pushed out of the sockets, ears ached, noise and jar of car caused extreme pain. After a night's rest felt well. A week later the symptoms returned * * * I was frantic with agony * * * It was like red hot pincers tearing and twisting the back of my neck and head. I could scarcely open my eyes to the light * * * * I drank a quantity of hot tea and after a couple of hours I was relieved."

Mrs. F. speaks further of the sudden onset of the headache from inhaling tobacco smoke, or when canning peaches or rubbing on the washboard, visiting, etc., and tells how her face flushes with the pain.

"Ordinarily I feel fine, but I never know when that pain is coming. It may wake me from a sound sleep at night, and I almost collapse with that first stinging, drawing pain. I am surely getting to be a coward—anticipate the pain probably. Any suggestion would be gratefully received, even if you say it is 'a neurotic spree.' As you said in one of your late articles: "It is not much fun anyway.'"

Answer: Mrs. F.'s headache and pain are due to a reflex spasm of the muscles in the walls of all the small arteries of the head and neck. Vaso-motor spasm is the medical name for it. The face flushes when the skin capillaries dilate, or grows dead white when they take part in the spasm.

A cramp or spasm is an exaggerated reflex. For some reason or other the muscle responds to a stimulus with an over sharp contraction. This is what happens when the swimmer gets a cramp fro mthe cold water, or when one's whole body jumps at a noise. This is what happens in Mrs. F.'s case when just the light of day, the smell of tobacco smoke and the noise and jar of the car cause severe pain. The little circular muscles in the small blood vessels of the head go into a cramp, reducing the size of the arteries and causing a throbbing pain with each pulse beat.

The remedy, as may easily be seen, is to relax the spasm when it is on; but it is better still to prevent its coming. Mrs. F. stumbled on the remedy when she drank a quantity of hot tea. The heat in the stomach brought a large quantity of blood there and relaxed the general spasm. Plain hot water is better than tea, for the effect of the drug is escaped. The water needs to be taken in large quantities, two cups at a time, swallowed rapidly, and repeated often, until the skin of the body becomes moist. Be careful not to have the water hot enough to injure the lining of the stomach.

Cure is good, but prevention is better. Two things are to be considered—one from the physical standpoint and the other from the psychic side. The first thing is to prevent acidosis. This is a condition that tends to throw muscles into spasms and is due to a lack of the right foods—as in fasting—or to an excess of so called acid-ash foods, such as too much bread, or meat or eggs, and too few vegetables and fruits.

The psychic phase to be considered is one's emotional reaction. You may be a little tens ein all your moods and moves, Mrs. F. The pain is excruciating, but it is made worse by your fear, and often comes just because you become tense in anticipating it. The painful reflex really becomes a habit. Let me assure you that you can break up what is so largely a nervous habit.

PLANE NARROWLY MISSES CROWDED CHICAGO BLEACHERS

SPECTATOR IS ALSO KILLED IN ACCIDENT AT NATIONAL AIR RACES

CURTISS REYNOLDS AIRPORT, CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The Navy plane of Lieut. DeShazo, speeding 125 miles an hour, sideslipped into a crash beside the south bleachers and burst into flames today. The pilot and one spectator, Louis Werner, Chicago merchant, were killed, and several others were injured.

Many escaped by running as the plane fell.

AIRPORT, Chicago, Aug. 27.—(AP)—J. P. DeShazo, navy flier from Alabama, was killed and a spectator whose name was not learned was injured seriously today when DeShazo's pursuit plane crashed just next to the far right bleachers of the national air races.

The crash occurred just as 17 Navy planes passed the last pylon in a 50-mile speed race. De Shazo, flying 100 feet from the ground, attempted to do a spectacular roll. The plane burst into flames as it hit the ground in front of a concession stand.

Several people, seeing De Shazo's plane rushing down, saved their lives by running. The pilot was burned beyond recognition. He had finished third in the race.

De Shazo was unmarried. He entered Annapolis in 1921 and graduated in 1925. He was a member of the Navy unit of stunt fliers known as the Fifth Fighting Squadron.

Swift confusion followed the crash. Occupants of the bleachers leaped out of them from all sides and others broke on to the field to run to the scene. Several fire department trucks were rushed across the field as flames shot into the air.

De Shazo just missed several large transport planes standing at the south end of the field, his plane coming down in a space not more than fifty feet square.

It was believed at first that several persons had been killed.

The Navy planes were bunched together at the finish of the race, which was won by Lieut. D. S. Cornwell, flying at a speed of 127.23 miles.

Lieut. Commander J. H. Campman was second at 125.69 miles and the dead pilot was in third place at 125.52 miles.

Non-Stop Derby Is Wednesday Attraction

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The non-stop derby from Los Angeles still held paramount interest in the National Air Races today.

Dependent upon the speed in which Art Goebel, Dole Pacific flight winner, can span the western desert, mountains and plains, first place was held by Wiley Post of Oklahoma City.

Post streaked acros sthe finish line at the Curtiss-Reynolds airport shortly after 5:30 p. m. yesterday, nine hours, nine minutes and four seconds after taking off from Los Angeles.

T. . Schoenhair, Akron, O., was second. His time was 9:30:17. Capt. William Brock, New-York-to-Tokyo flier, was third with a time of 9:53:57. Five minutes later, Roscoe Turner, former holder of the tran-continental records, was last.

Goebel, who further tested his plane yesterday, said last night he would takeoff at 4 a. m., today (Pacific coast time). Weather reports along the route indicated Gobel would have even better conditions than the favorable winds of yesterday. He said he was confident of beating Post's time.

Omlie Wins Derby.

Mrs. Phoebe Omlie, Memphis, won the women's Dixie derby from Washington, D. C., yesterday with an elapsed time of 11 hours, 47 minutes and 21 seconds. Mrs. Martie Bowman, Hempstead, N. Y., was second; Laura Ingalls, St. Louis, third; Nancy Hopkins, New York City, fourth.

Mrs. Omlie was entered in the first closed course race for women today. The event was for five laps around the five-mile pyloned course. Officials would not disclose other entrants until shortly before the race but said several novices were entered.

Two men's races and a race for navy pilots in open pursuit planes added speed to the day's program.

Wichita has made the first big for the 1931 air races.

Stribling Goes to Races

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 27.—(AP)—The monoplane "King of the Canebrakes" piloted by its owner, W. L. (Young) Stribling, hopped off for Chicago and the national air races today.

Stribling, who holds a transport pilot's license and a commission in the army reserve, was accompanied by George Shealy, Atlanta flier, who will act as co-pilot on the Chicago hop.

The Georgia heavyweight boxer said he would not enter any of the events at Chicago but was attending merely as a spectator.

The monoplane has been acquired by Stribling since his return from England where he knocked out Phil Scott. His first act after purchasing the ship was to order the name of "King of the Canebrakes" painted on its side.

That was the title given Stribling by sports writers because of his record of one-night stands and quick knockouts throughout the counry.

Good Stunt Flyer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Lieutenant P. DeShazo, killed today at the Chicago air races, was one of the best known stunt fliers of the navy. He was a member of the 1929 battle fleet stunting trio and again this year was a member of the well known trio known as the "Unholy Three."

DeShazo was a member of the "Caterpillar Club" Composed of men who have made forced parachute descents. He made a forced jump and landed in the Pacific ocean in September 1929.

His home address is Montevallo, Ala. He was designated as a naval aviator December 6, 1928.

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT, Los Angeles, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Art Goebel, [illegible] Los Angeles aviator and [illegible] of the five entrants in the Los Angeles-to-Chicago non-stop air race, took off at 5:10 a. m., today in an effort to better Wiley Post's time of 9 hours 9 minutes and four seconds.

The derby is a feature of the National air races now being staged at Chicago.

New Orleans Cotton Irregular.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The cotton market today had rather an irregular opening. Cables were about as due and October opened 4 points up but later months showed losses of 7 to 9 points. There was a slight rally right after the start, but prices soon eased off again on bedee selling and liquidation in advance of the protracted holiday at the end of the week. October traded down to 11.31, December to 11.46 and January to 11.57, or 10 to 12 points below yesterday's close.

The market remained quiet all morning owing to athe unwillingness of traders to enter nupon new commitments in advace of the holidays.

Offerings in the way of selling had been readily absorbed by trade buying and December advanced to 11.50 and January to 11.65, or 4 to 10 points up from the early lows but still 1 to 4 points under yesterday's close.

New York Cotton Lower.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. (AP)—The cotton market today opened steady at a decline of 9 to 14 points under some Southern selling and realizing or liquidation promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables.

The initial offerings were fairly well taken and prices rallied 4 or 5 points right after the call, but covering was less active after the advances of the past few days and prices eased off again under some further Southern selling and realizing. By the end of the first half hour, the market was selling around 11.31 for the new October and 11.73 for March contracts or about 10 to 12 points net lower. Trading was quieter than recently, being restricted by the approach of the three day adjournment and traders seemed inclined to wait further developments.

Liverpool cables said there had been hedge selling and liquidation in that market absorbed that trade calling at the decline and reported a better feeling in Manchester.

The market was quiet late in the morning. The first of the end of August private reports was published, placing the condition of the crop at 55.5 and the indicated yield at 14,128,000 bales, compared with an indication of 14,005,000 from the same source last month, and the official August 1 indication of 14,302,000 bales.

This report failed to stimulate the market, but prices held steady with new October selling up to 11.38 and March to 11.80, o rabout 6 to 8 points above the low levels of the mrning. At midday prices were within a pint r tw femfw prices were within a pint or two of the best with active months selling about 5 to 6 points net lower.

SOUTHERN LEADER REFUSES TO DEAL WITH NEW JUNTA

LIMA, Peru, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The new Peruvian government will have as its head Lieutenant Colonel Luis Sanchez Cerro. Its Cabinet is:

Naval Captain Carlos Rotalde, Lieutenant Colonel Rivardo Llona, Colonel Eulogio Castillo and Majors Felipe Delabarra, C. Delbarco, Gustavo Jimines and Sologuren.

LIMA, Peru, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The military junta which overthrew the government of President Leguia and seized control of Peru will resign and Luis M. Sanchez Cerro will head a new government according to reliable advices at noon today.

Lt. Col. Cerro came out victorious in a political overturn at Arequipa, Southern Peru, last week, just before the government passed into the hands of the military junta and sent the aged executive Augusto Leguia, who had held the reins of government for eleven years, into exile on a warship.

The southern militarists objected to the nature of the junta in control at Lima which yesterday sent a commission to him in the expectation that an amicable agreement could be reached.

Cerro's answer, according to private advices filtering through Peru today was the seizing of the airplane in which Col. Lopez, the arbiter, and his companions traveled from Lima, and three other planes including that of the American military expert, Captain Grow, who also is in custody as an adherent of the forme rregime of President Leguia.

It was announced that Cerro will arrive in Lima some time this afternoon.

According to morning newspapers the members of the junta met all yesterday afternoon and the greater part of the night in the palace, leaving only about 2:30 a. m. when General Ponce and some of his colleagues went to Chorrilos to confer with General Sarmiento, Colonel Montague and others.

The military school and other army units said to have declared they would obey Sanchez Cerro only as supreme chief.

Lima heard this afternoon that the southern leader would arrive at 5 p. m. in an airplane which he had seized, belonging to the Fawcett commercial air line.

Grain and Provisions

Wheat and Corn Lower.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Wheat and corn prices went down grade today after some show of firmness at the start.

Many wheat traders here were apparently disposed to postpone new buying until after the peak of the Canadian wheat movement had passed. Iowa reports that corn promised only a half crop furnished some basis for rallying power in the corn market.

Opening at 1-8c of fto 1-8c up, wheat values later underwent a general setback. Corn started at 1-4c decline to 1-4c advance and subsequently underwent a sharp drop, but then scored gains.

Wheat rallied at the last in sympathy with corn strength, and closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 3-8c higher. Corn closed firm 5-8 to 1 3-8c up, oats unchanged to 1-2c advanced, and provisions unchanged to 7 cents off.

UNHERALDED CREW RECEIVES PRAISE AFTER CROSSING

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Like any ordinary mariner, Capt. Wolfgang Von Gronau, skipper of the skies, went down to the custom house today to record the arrival in port of his flying Whale in which he and three companions made an eight-day journey from Germany.

While the other three members of the crew enjoyed a late and leisurely breakfast in their hotel, Van Gronau hailed a taxi and rode downtown with a friend, driving through crowds unware of his identity.

When the Whale flying boat alighted between the battery and the statue of Liberty yesterday an immigration inspector went aboard from a police boat to ask the usual questions, but the customs formalities were postponed until today.

Before Capt. Von Gronau left the hotel he received a telegram from the state department at Washington officially congratulating him and his companions on the "splendid flight" and safe arrival.

The mayor's committee was at work today on plans for a more formal city reception than was possible yesterday, when the fliers had small ceremony for anything but getting to its berth for a thorough overhauling the old plane in which they had flown over Iceland, Greenland, Labrador and Nova Scotia on their way here.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Nine days after their unheralded departure from Germany, Captain Wolfgang Von Gronau and his three companions rested here today, having completed the fourth successful westward crossing of the north Atlantic by airplane.

They landed their Dornier-Wal flying boat off the Battery wall at 2:45 p. m. (EST) yesterday, having made the last lap of their flight from Halifax in six hours.

The flight fulfilled for Captain Von Gronau, crisp-spoken veteran of the German imperial navy flying service, an old dream and gained him the distinction of being the first to land a trans-Atlantic plane in New York harbor.

Added glamor was given the flight because it was made in an old reconditioned ship used by Amundsen in Arctic exploration and by Captain Frank Courtney in an abortive attempt to span the Atlantic.

It was estimated the fliers covered about 4,000 nautical miles in a flying time of 47 hours. En toure here they stopped in Iceland, Greenland, Labrador and Nova Scotia.

A shout from 5,000 throats heralded the plane's arrival. It headed across the tip of Manhattan, circled the Statue of Liberty in salute and then came down, landing gracefully about fifty yards from the Acquarium.

Captain Von Gronau said they had no idea when they left the Isle of Sylt in the North Sea that they were on their way to New York.

"I wanted to see how it would go, how the weather was and so on, before I definitely decided to continue," he said.

Captain Von Gronau said he and his companions expected to remain in New York several days and then hoped to visit the air races in Chicago, stopping in Washington.

FOUR STATES NAME CANDIDATES HIGH OFFICES TUESDAY

BLEASE, ROLPH, BORAH AND HARRISON LEAD FOR U. S. SENATE

(By The Associated Press.)

The 10,000-odd lead of Cole L. Blease for democratic renomination to the senate from South Carolina stood out today with the continuation of tabulation of votes cast in yesterday's primaries.

In California, Mayor James Rolph, Jr., of San Francisco, was running ahead of Governor C. C. Young by 40,000 votes for the republican gubernatorial nomination. A majority of the precincts had reported.

Senator William E. Borah was renominated by the Idaho republican convention. Both the republican and democratic conventions had yet to choose nomines for governor.

With less than 600 of the 1,075 precincts remaining to report, Blease still had a chance for a majority of the votes cast for the three candidates in South Carolina. Unless that materializes, another contest between him and runnerup—James F. Byrnes—will be held on September 9. The nomination amounts to election.

Mississippi democrats renominated Senator Pat Harrison and seven of their eight representatives in the house. It also looked as though Representative Ross Collins, the only incumbent to face a contest, had won again. The democratic nominations there also are equivalent to election.

Borah Again Victor.

IDAHO FALLS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—William E. Borah, who has represented Idaho in the United States senate twenty-three years, was the republican senatorial nominee today for the fifth time.

When the veteran chairman of the foreign relations committee was nominated yesterday by the state republican convention, democrats preparing for their convention at St. Anthony announced they would not select a candidate to oppose him.

A change of sentiment was apparent today, however, and prominent democratic leaders predicted a complete slate of candidates, including an opponent for Borah, would be forthcoming in the convention.

Rolph's Lead Increases

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The governorship of California seemed almost within the reach of James Rolph, Jr., San Francisco's picturesque mayor, as returns from the state primary piled up an ever-growing lead in his favor today.

Rolph, who wears high boots instead of ordinary shoes and who never appears in public without a boutonniere, was leading Governor C. C. Young and Buron Fitts, district attorney of Los Angeles county, by a liberal margin when two-thirds of the vote for the republican nomination for governor had been tabulated. The republican nomination is considered tantamount to election.

Returns from 7,156 out of 10,283 precincts in the state gave Rolph 277,748; Young 236,697, and Fitts 209,145.

Longhorn Officials Need Big Gates For Approaching Season

AUSTIN, Aug. 27.—(AP)—While supporters of the University of Texas football team will be interested primarily in the conference standing of the Longhorns, the athletic council will be watching the ticket takers grabbing the ducats and simoleons with more than their usual avidity.

Reason: The council now faces a deficit somewhere in the neighborhood of $50,000, which they hope to py off this season. Members of the group also would like to put a little away as a nest egg for next season's activities.

As things look now, it seems likely the Orange and White will finish the conference race with the books showing a balance instead of a deficit since two of the largest games of the year will be played on the home battleground. These are the tilts with Texas A. and M., and Southern Methodist university. The former clash is really the money-maker for the Longhorns because it marks the high spot of the grid senson, due to the intense rivalry between the two schools and because it is home-coming game for all the old grads.

PRORATION ORDERS FOR TEXAS FIELDS PREPARED THURSDAY

ALL PRODUCING AREAS EXCEPT WEST TEXAS INCLUDED IN ORDERS

AUSTIN, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Formal orders embodying proration regulations for all Texas oil fields in which curtailment regulations had been agreed upon were prepared today by R. D. Parker, oil and gas supervisor for the state railroad commission.

These include all Texas oil producing areas except the West Texas, where the Big Lake field is still controversy, and the gulf coast field, held in abeyance for thirty days.

Parker said the commission had agreed upon the disputed Crane-Upton fields, allowing them 29,000 barrels with all of the McLroy ranch included except the north tier of four sections. The remaining sixteen sections, with a production of about 6.500 barrels, will be considered in the West Texas area, subject to the regulations for the area as differentiated from the regulations for the Crane-Upton field.

No mention was made in this order of the air and gas lifts used by Gulf and Texas in the field. Gulf had requested the commission to exclude the use of air and gas lifts as artificial stimulation of production out of keeping with the spirit of curtailment.

Born in Buenos Aires in 1853, he was the son of Martin and Marcelina Alem Yrigoyen. He was educated at San Jose college and the University of Buenos Aires. He studied law but abandoned it for agriculture and cattle raising and the teaching of Argentine history for which he accepted no salary. He is tall, muscular and appears twenty years younger than his true age. After the war he avoided public functions, became careless about his dress and shunned society, living his official life to himself as much as possibls.

NEW YORK MAYOR SEEKS ASSISTANCE RID CITY OF GRAFT

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—With accusations of office buying of magistrates and judges increasing daily, Mayor Walker has appealed to civic leaders to help him rid the city of graft.

Ten judges, ranging from occupants of municipal to supreme court benches, have been charged in letters and telegrams, some of them anonymous, with purchasing their offices from political leaders.

Assistant Attorney General Thos. Penney, Jr., chief aid to Attorney General Hamilton Ward in a state investigation into charges of office buying by Former Magistrate George F. Ewald, said more than twenty letters of accusation had been received. Few, he said dealt with specific instances of graft and corruption.

The mayor, in addressing 200 representatives of civic and mercantile interests at City Hall, suggested the organizations form a central committee to receive complaints of graft and corruption. He promised a full investigation of all complaints and the driving from the city's service of all those found guilty of grafting.

After the meeting several of those who attended criticized the mayor's action and accused him of trying to "pass the buck."

Norman Thomas, prominent socialist, termed the mayor's action a belated one and declared the amount of graft taken by the minor city officials to be only a "small part of the loot which the machine of which he is a part takes every year from New York."

LARGE SUM WILL BE NECESSARY FOR TRINITY PROJECT

FORT WORTH, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Approval by congress of the proposed Trinity river canal would involve the expenditure of from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000 in making the river an adjunct of the inland waterways system of the nation, Roy Miller of Corpus Christi, executive vice president of the Trinity River Canal Assoication, estimated in outlining the primary objectives of the organization to its directors here today.

The ultimate authoriation of a sum of that mzagnitude, Miller declared, will depend upon the reaching of two objectives that face the canal association as a preliminary to getting the project actually under way. The first of these objectives, in his opinion, is to overcome any prejudice against the waterway proposal that may remain from an abortive attempt 25 years ago to make the river navigable. This can be done only by a nationwide educational campaign, he declared, which at the same time northern and eastern shippers must be convinced of the commercial advantages they would derive from completion of the project.

Miller painted a picture of the Trinity river as a part of the so-called Mississippi system of coordinated waterways, and as an important adjunct to the water connections extending far into the northern and eastern part of the United States. The advantage that has resulted to Mississippi ports by the completion of other systems, he said, would be offset and the benefits distributed to other southwestern cities by digging the Trinity river canal.

He said he honed to have the report on the project ready to submit to the United States engineers by November 15.

The report of the nominating committee was made to the directors by Simon W. Freese of Fort Worth. The names of new directors submitted and approved are as follows: D. A. Nunn of Crockett, Joe Webb of Madisonville, Todd Robinson, Polit Blank, L. O. Jackson of Livingston, E. B. Pickett of Liberty, Tom Dall of Huntsville, E. P. Harwell of Tulsa. Ben Critz of Dallas, and Lowery Martin of Corsicana.

To The Voters

I take this method of thanking my many friends for their vote and loyal support during my campaign for the office of County Treasurer of Navarro county. I want to especially thank those who voted for me and used their valued influence with the other voters. I want all of the voters to know that I have no ill feeling toward those who did not vote for me, but on the other hand am very grateful to those who aided me in my campaign. My chief concern now is the sorrow that my defeat brought to my friends, but I beg of them to be of good cheer as I am, for I am happy in the knowledge that I made a clean race, finding no fault and never speaking disrespectfully of my opponent. I am happy to have the consolation of knowing and have my friends know that I made a clean race and lost rather than to have it said of me that I engaged in disreputable tactics and won. I am justly proud of the fine vote given me in my home town and precinct, both of which gave me a larger majority than ever given any opposed condidate in the history of East Navarro county. I wish also to take this opportunity to inform my friends in all of Navarro county that I will be a candidate for the office of County Treasurer two years from now at which time I will appreciate everything you do to aid me in this race. Again assuring you that I appreciate all past favors and earnestly solicit a continuance of your good will. I am,

Gratefully yours,
MELVIN PENNEY.
